OVER 22,000 PEOPLE AT INDUSTRIAL SHOW

Increased Interest in Display of Lowell Products—Commercial Executives Entertained

The industrial exposition yesterday was visited by exactly twenty-two thousand, two hundred and nine persons, the largest crowd that has ever attended an indoor event in this city. Yesterday morning and afternoon was given over to students of the grammar schools of the city and thousands visited the various booths under the guidance of their teachers and inspected for the first time the various lines of Lowell's diversified manufactures. They certainly appreciated the big attraction and the majority were seen with notebooks in hand taking notes to be used undoubtedly in school composition.

Last night an even larger crowd than that which packed the Kasino on Tuesday night was in attendance but the police arrangements were much better and the crowding and pushing that was so prevalent on the previous night was practically done away with. The officers handled the large crowd without

THE ANCONA CASE

Dr. Greil, American Survivor, Contradicts Austrian Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—An affidavit by Dr. Cecile L. Greil of New York, the only American survivor of the Italian liner Ancona, directly contradicts the Austro-Hungarian government's official statement that the ship was not attacked by the attacking submarine after she stopped. The statement today was notified of the existence of the affidavit by consular dispatches.

The text of the message which was sent by American Consul Mason, of Algiers, follows:

"Cecile Greil (Greil) intelligent, impartial witness, deposition not conclusive as to whether any effort was made to escape by Ancona. First information received when she was in dining saloon. Disturbance on deck, stoppage, or blowing of whistle, followed shortly by shots which struck vessel. Testimony of Greil, (probably means proves) that bombardment lasted 45 minutes and was continued after vessel stopped, killing and wounding

SCROFULA AND ALL HUMORS GIVE WAY

There are many things learned from experience and observation that the older generation should impress upon the younger. Among them is the fact that scrofula and other humors are most successfully treated with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine is a peculiar combination of remarkably effective blood-purifying and health-giving roots, herbs and barks, and has been tested for forty years. Get it today.

Safety First

There is no better or safer investment than shares in Co-operative Banks. ENLIST OR GET OUT

Paris Council Adopts Measure Urging All Subjects of Allied Nations to Join Colors

PARIS, Nov. 18.—The Paris council has adopted a measure presented by its president, Henri Gailli, and Poirier de Narcey, urging that all subjects of allied nations of military age who are residing in France be required either to leave the country or enlist in the French army; those who refuse to be confined in concentration camps.

The motion also sets forth that subjects of neutral countries should not receive residential permits except upon recommendation of their governments and after rigid investigation of their credentials.

LYNN GARAGE BURNED

LYNN, Nov. 18.—A one-story wooden garage, the property of Joseph Delapenna, a baker of 265-270 South Cannon street, was completely destroyed by fire today and the bakery adjoining was badly damaged by the flames. The total loss on bakery and garage will amount to $7000.

Daniel O'Neil, fireman, of engine 1, was badly burned about the face and hands.

PARK INSTITUTE MET AT CITY HALL TODAY

New England Body Viewed Local Parks — Will Attend Industrial Show Tonight

The Park Institute of New England held a meeting in this city today. The meeting was held in the aldermanic chamber at city hall and it was the first time the institute has met in this city.

The meeting opened at 2 o'clock, or thereabout, and there were opening words by Mayor Murphy and President Marden of the Lowell board of trade.

There were interesting papers read by Capt. John Dillon, chairman of the park commission of Boston; James R. Sher, deputy park commissioner of Boston; S. Wales Dixon, park commissioner of Hartford, Ct., and James McCaffrey, chairman of the park board of Providence, R. I.

After the meeting the visitors were given an automobile ride through the parks of the city and they will attend the industrial exhibition at the Kasino this evening. The visitors will take dinner at the Richardson hotel at 5 o'clock.

NORSE STEAMER SUNK

REPORTED THAT THE ULRIKEN STRUCK MINE NEAR GALLIPOLI LIGHT

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 18, via London.—According to a newspaper report, the Norwegian steamer Ulriken, 1434 tons, from New York for Rotterdam, has been sunk with the loss of five members of her crew.

The steamer Glenmore on arriving at Rotterdam from New York, reported that the Ulriken struck a mine near Gallipoli light.

CREW SAVED

LONDON, Nov. 18, 12:42 p. m.—The loss of the Ulriken is reported in a despatch to Lloyd's which says the crew was saved.

ADVANCE IN CRUDE OILS

Two Dollar Oil Was Reached Today — Advance of 10 Cents a Barrel

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—Two dollar oil, the goal of hundreds of producers throughout the country, was reached today when the South Penn Oil Co. announced the second advance in crude oil for the week.

The advance amounted to 10c a barrel on all grades except Ragland, which remained unchanged.

This new price is expected to bring out the greater part of the several million barrels of crude oil known to be above ground and to stimulate drilling in the hope of increasing production.

STRIKEBREAKERS ARRIVE

Two Injured in Riot at Rhode Island
Perkins Horseshoe Company—Police Called

VALLEY FALLS, R. I., Nov. 18.—Fifty strikebreakers arrived at the plant of the Rhode Island Perkins Horseshoe Co. today where they were met by a band of the strikers who have been out for nine weeks. Two of the visitors were injured in fist fights, but not seriously, and the arrival of the police prevented further trouble. No arrests were made. The strikers demand recognition of the union and readjustment of the wage schedule.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A delightful miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Miss Maud Gaynor, 105 Mammoth road in honor of Miss Annie Gildoe. The program for the evening included piano selections and vocal solos and recitations. The hit of the evening was a talk on pointers relating to the jenny service by Mrs. J. Forgays. The bride to be was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents. Refreshments were served after which the party broke up at a late hour, wishing the bride-to-be a bright and happy future.

"DRY" CAMPAIGN IN HUB

MAJ. SMITH CHARGES LIQUOR INTERESTS DEFEATED GOV. WALSH—PREDICTS NO LICENSE DEC. 14

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Major Morgan Smith of Chicago, opening up the campaign for a "dry" Boston at the next election, in Faneuil hall yesterday, charged the liquor interests with the defeat of Gov. Walsh and attacked them for their interference in politics. "Boston dry Dec. 14 is more than a possibility; it is a probability," he declared.

Major Smith was greeted by a responsive audience of several hundred persons. The rally is the first of a daily series to be conducted until Dec. 14 by the Anti-Saloon league. George A. McKinnon of Boston presided. Major Smith is a national speaker of the league, member of the National Guard, former special assistant United States district attorney and investigator of social conditions.

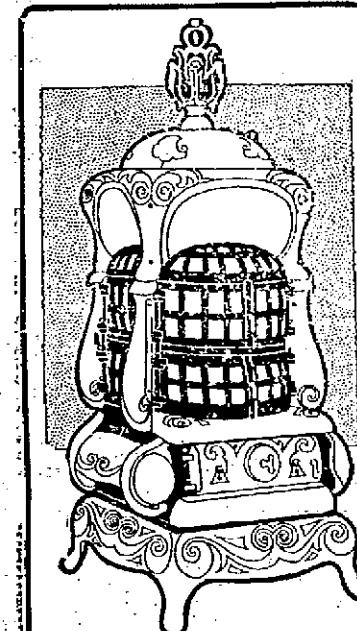

Mrs. Aki Yosano, who conducts the woman's department of an influential magazine in Tokyo, Japan, is largely responsible for the active part women have taken in the Japanese elections.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It
In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a rent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proved itself to be that long-sought-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay, write today. Mark H. Jackson, No. 378 B, Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

The Jewett Piano

What music has meant to others it may mean to you—tonight and tomorrow night and many delightful evenings to come. No other art—no other recreation can take the place of music. No other source of enjoyment is worth so great a sacrifice, if any is necessary, to bring it into the home.

And if you would make music lovers of your loved ones, you will find no better instrument than the Jewett piano. It is the favorite home piano of New England—played in thousands of musical homes—used for study and teaching in hundreds of studios.

Its fine tone, its responsive action, its artistically designed and beautifully finished exterior, its durability, proved by the tests of fifty years—all combine to make the Jewett an unusual value.

As its price we believe it has no equal in quality. And its splendid musical equipment may be yours to enjoy on terms that bring it within easy reach.

Prices from $375 upward—Terms of liberal credit
Steinert Guaranteed.

We have other pianos of well known makes at from $275 up—and used pianos at from $55 up. Steinert's is the Home of the Jewett Piano and the Pianola, the world's best player-piano.

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

The dainty caps that are so easily made transform even an ugly woman into a pretty one. Is there anything more trying than a woman with her hair done up in curl papers? Even a beauty may well look ugly in such a condition, and the majority of women are not blessed with naturally curly locks.

The caps can be worn at night and cover the head completely at the same time giving the hair plenty of air. They should always be made of very thin material.

They are cut circular, with lace and heading about the edge. A sheer material like lace, with Valenciennes imitation lace about the edge is quite as effective as more expensive material and will wear longer. Narrow ribbon is run through the heading and may be drawn up closely about the head and tied. A bow can be sewed on the left side.

One of the new carriage sets for the new baby is castly made at home. It consists of a pillow, carriage robe and strap. Both are made from dotted muslin with frills of the same, the hem of the frill being edged with narrow lace. The pillow cover may be of any delicate color, and the pillow cover will, of course, be slipped over a pillow covered with the same material as the lining of the robe.

A strip of white satin ribbon or matching the lining and heading of the robe and a similar rosette is on a corner of the pillow. The unlined robe, placed over a piece of rubber sheeting, may be used by the mother for a lap robe or state occasion. The strap is made from satin ribbon three inches wide and lined the same as the robe. A rosette at each end finishes it.

The little pieces of embroidery for baby's wardrobe always form a fascinating form of needlework for the mother or friend who loves pretty things and also loves to make them.

Working on one of these will make the time pass much more quickly, while waiting in a railroad station, for instance, if one is so unfortunate as to lose her train. It is surprising how very quickly one of these little articles can be completed if kept in the hand bag and worked upon at odd moments.

When made from wash fabrics the soiling need not be minded for, of course, each must be laundered before being used. A charming nightgown may be made of white cashmere, cut all in one piece, with slits to form the sleeves.

Cut one piece also is the exquisite little cap which is worked with a simulated ribbon in satin stitch. This is seamed at the sides and button-holed slits appear at the sides and back, through which ribbons are run.

A traveler's apron is very convenient and easy to make. Buy a yard and an eighth of rubberized silk a yard wide and four yards of red tape for binding the apron and the pockets. Cut a small apron with rounded corners, five small pockets and one large one.

The large pocket is to be divided into three sections for the comb, brush and manicure implements. The small pockets are to be used for hairpins, powder, washcloth, nailbrush, and all other little things a woman needs when making her toilet. The apron may be rolled into a small space and tucked into the suitcase until needed. When in use, tied securely about the waist, everything will be within easy reach.

Here is an excellent method to keep a bias seam from sagging: Sew the article by machine, then stretch it with your fingers as much as the material will permit, allowing the thread to break.

Now sew the seam again, keeping it well stretched all the time. This may be applied to any fabric, but it is especially good for wash materials, and a cotton or linen skirt, carefully sewed in this way, will not sag at the sides or back.

Before finishing the lower edge of a skirt—and let this be the last thing you do to it—try it on and mark all of the bias places, then put it on a skirt hanger or form and attach small weights to each marked edge. Let the skirt hang in this way for three or four days, then cut off even and hem.

If buttonholes have become worn or frayed on a woolen garment, sew a small piece of cloth over each side of the old buttonhole, stitching it down flatly all around. Then cut and make a new buttonhole right over the old one. If you have no pieces of the cloth, dark colored linen tape may be used. This applies to linens or cottons.

Instead of a pencil use a small darning needle to mark the perforations in linen and percale frocks. In this way you will mark both sides at once and will have no unsightly pencil marks to erase.

TRAWLER CREWS STRIKE

DEMAND THAT WORK WHILE IN BOSTON PORT END AT 5 P. M.—SEVEN VESSELS TIED UP

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—A general strike is threatened among the crews of the steam trawlers of the port because the men demand that the hours of labor be cut at 5 p. m. while the vessels are in port. Seven of the nine trawlers owned by the Bay State Fishing company are tied up at East Boston because of the strike, and the other two, the Foam and Spray, which were unloading fish at the South Boston fish pier yesterday, will probably go out of commission as soon as the fish is unloaded.

The men express satisfaction with their wages and working conditions at sea. The company, it is reported, has declined to accede to the demands and the officers of the company refused to make a surrender.

The Trident Fisheries company was notified Tuesday afternoon that part of the crews of their two vessels, the steamer Long Island and East Hampton, had gone on strike in sympathy with the Bay State men. New men manned the East Hampton and she left for the fish pier at midnight Tuesday for the fishing grounds. The Long Island will probably get away today with new men in her crew.

A QUICK, SURE WAY TO END CATARRH

Catarrh Grows from Millions in Air Passages of Nose and Throat—Just One Way to Drive Them Out

To stop catarrh for good, you must drive from your system the germs that cause catarrh and that are now feeding and growing fat upon the swollen inflamed mucous membranes of your nose and throat.

A splendid means of destroying catarrh germs and overcoming catarrh has long been recognized by physicians as the well known oil of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mey) and it is now a very simple matter for any catarrh sufferer to use it with splendid results at home, by breathing its air through a little hard rubber inhaling device which leading druggists are supplying with each large complete treatment. Just pour a few drops of the oil of Hyomei into this inhaler, place it between your lips and then breathe naturally and the pleasant smelling antiseptic germ killing air will penetrate deep down into every fold and crevice of your raw, sore nose, throat and lungs and give you quick certain relief, opening up the air passages, making you breathe easily, stopping the inflammation and discharging and driving from your system every catarrh germ that has found lodgment there.

If you want to be free from every symptom of catarrh, are tired of trying one thing after another without benefit go to any reliable drug store hereabouts and get a complete Hyomei inhaler outfit, use it every day for a few minutes and it will not drive the catarrh germs out of your system and give you real lasting relief from Catarrh, your druggist will give you your money back.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin upon which you begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Clear the blood, the bowels and the liver with Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets, is ever cured with a dark brown taste, a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound, and mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

INCOMPARABLE GRACE

Pussy willow satin of flesh color is used for this beautiful effect. The full tulle falls over a not foundation, the tucked in ends giving a piquant finish. A net bolero, covered with opalescent beads, harmonizes with the beaded front panel and high grille. The length is convenient for dancing.

KING GEORGE SHOCKED

ANGLIA, SUNK BY MINE, RECENTLY CONVEYED HIM FROM WAR FRONT AFTER HIS ACCIDENT

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The British hospital ship Anglia was sunk by a mine in the English channel yesterday. Three hundred men were saved out of a total of 385.

A statement issued by the Official Press bureau gave the news of the disaster. It said that of the 13 officers and 372 men on board the Anglia, 300 had been saved.

The following official communication concerning the disaster was made public: "The war office reports that the hospital ship Anglia struck a mine in the channel today and sank. The total number on board was 13 officers and 372 men of other ranks, of whom about 300 were saved by a patrol vessel.

"Another ship proceeding to the rescue was also sunk by another mine. (This was the collier Lusitania.)"

Another official communication says: "King George was shocked to hear that the Anglia, which so recently conveyed him across the channel, had been sunk. His majesty is grieved at the loss incurred, but trusts that the survivors have not unduly suffered from their terrible experience."

STORY FROM DOVER

DOVER, Eng., Nov. 18.—The hospital ship Anglia with about 300 wounded men aboard, in addition to the crew, nurses and attendants, bound from France for Dover, struck a mine in mid-channel yesterday and sank in a very short time. Nearly 100 men, most of them seriously wounded, and the majority of the crew lost their lives.

The collier Lusitania, which was near by at the time of the accident, immediately went to the assistance of the Anglia and her boats had just been lowered when she also struck a mine and foundered. All her crew were saved.

A patrol vessel succeeded in rescuing 300 of the Anglia's passengers and crew, including some nurses. A number of bodies were recovered.

The Anglia was a merchantman which was taken over by the British admiralty after the sinking of the war and retired as a hospital ship. She was commissioned in August of last year. She was in charge of Commander Oscar V. de Satge, retired.

CHICAGO HAS REAL WAR ON ITS HANDS WHEN ITS POLICE INVADE "STREETERVILLE"

STREETER AND VAN WHICH HE MADE HIS COURTHOUSE

"Streeterville," which although lying within a stone's throw of the fashionable Lake Shore drive, in Chicago, and between it and Lake Michigan, has long maintained its independence of all laws save those of the United States, came back to life to compete with the war news with a real battle of its own. The fact that Chicago—obeying the law of Illinois—has been declared "dry territory" on Sundays was the cause. The "Deestrick of Lake Michigan," as its ruler, Captain George Wellington Streeter, calls it, was invaded by armed forces, and he was wounded. Bullet holes, blood and wreckage were left in the wake of the brisk battle. Two were wounded, sixteen prisoners were taken, munitions were captured, liquid provender to the amount of 15,000 bottles of beer was confiscated and the territorial archives, containing the sacred "dokuments" of state became war booty. Captain Streeter was on a small schooner wrecked on the sands twenty-nine years ago. He squatted on the land the lake created after his vessel made a barrier. He claims the land is outside the boundary of the city and state and has some court decisions in his favor. The land is now worth millions.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

MEETING OF NO. MIDDLESEX COUNTY DISTRICT FEDERATION OF CATHOLIC SOCIETIES

A largely attended meeting of the North Middlesex district of the American Federation of Catholic Societies was held in the Knights of Columbus rooms last evening. The meeting was called to order by Charles Daly of Medford, who has worked untiringly for the success of the Federation. He has given considerable time and energy to the work and that his efforts are appreciated was indicated at the close of the meeting last evening, when he was extended a rising vote of thanks.

The district includes all cities and towns in Middlesex county north of Woburn, and at last night's meeting 75 delegates were present. The new constitution was unanimously adopted and the nominating committee, Patrick J. McCann, chairman, brought in a list of officers. They were elected as follows: President, Thomas J. Fitzgerald, St. John's parish; first vice president, Narcisse Gadbois, St. Louis parish; second vice president, Hugh F. Kiernan, St. Mary's parish, Collinsville; third vice president, Miss Catherine Gaffney, St. Michael's parish; fourth vice president, Charles McCarthy, St. Mary's parish; Ayer, press secretary, Miss Mary B. Wood, Sacred Heart parish; recording secretary, Miss Margaret McCuskey, St. Michael's parish; financial secretary, Timothy Rohan, St. Patrick's parish; treasurer, J. Frank Connor, St. John's parish; No. Chelmsford; marshal, George W. Holden, St. Columba's parish; chaplain, Rev. Francis J. Mullin, St. Michael's parish; auditors, Michael Monahan, St. Peter's parish; Charles McCarthy, St. Michael's parish; Joseph Preston, Immaculate Conception parish.

EXONERATION EXPECTED

Cleveland Mayor Gives Hearing to Inspector Accused of Bribery—Decision Reserved

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Exoneration of Louis Loebel, accused of using his office as city immigration inspector to trap Albert Henkle, leader of Theodore Kundt's 2000 striking cabinetmaker, into a bribery conspiracy to end the strike was indicated yesterday at a public hearing in the mayor's office. Mayor Baker, acting as judge in Henkle's charge against Loebel, reserved his decision. During the hearing a demonstration was made in the street outside the city hall by 2000 strikers. Efforts to connect Henkle with the Austro-Hungarian government failed yesterday. Rumors that he was an agent of the government proved untrue.

TWO PARTY COUNTRY

MYRON T. HERRICK SAYS THERE IS NO ROOM FOR THIRD PARTY HERE

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Causes that led to a split within the ranks of the republican party have, in large part, vanished and the forces are to be reunited, Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France, told members of the Hamilton club in an address today. The republican party has become progressive, Mr. Herrick said, and through the willingness of each party to go half way in effecting a compromise many progressives have returned to their allegiance. "This is a two party country," he said. "It has never had and I presume never will have those multiple divisions by which the citizenship of some other nations are split. Between the two wings of our party, there is no difference as to the route or direction, but only as to the speed limit. There is no advantage in a three-sided contest which opens the way for tricks and trades. Any man can make his influence felt in any party but he cannot translate it into an active force for good laws and good government unless that party is powerful enough to put its policies into effect. "Republicans and progressives have been patriotically inspired to forget the past and join their energies for the better service of their country."

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Lowell Chapter, Telephone society of New England held a very lively and interesting meeting and entertainment Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, at which visitors were present from Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill and other points. Remarks were made by President Thomas H. DeLaney and Joseph Hammond, both of this city. After the transaction of business a delightful minstrel program was furnished by the South Ends, with James J. Donnelly as interlocutor.

Routine Sessions
Routine sessions were held last night by Leather Workers' union, Street Railway Men's union, local 551 and the Building Laborers' union, in their respective headquarters.

Health Dept. Teansters
The third anniversary of the Health Department Teansters' union was observed last evening by a banquet at which Mayor Murphy was the principal speaker.

Carpenters' Union
Carpenters' union, local 1510 held their regular weekly meeting last night in the union quarters in the Bunels building with a large attendance.

Ring Spinners and Others
The Ring Spinner Carders' association met last evening in Trades & Labor hall and transacted routine business. The Engineers' union met at 35 Central street and the Pavers' and Rammers' union held their usual monthly meeting at 32 Middle street.

HIS FOOT WAS INJURED

MATTHEW GARRIGAN DIDN'T RECEIVE VERY GOOD TREATMENT AT THE POLICE STATION

Matthew J. Garrigan, who was arrested last night for drunkenness, was in the dock in the local police court this forenoon suffering from an injury to his right foot, caused by stepping on a nail while under the influence of liquor. Garrigan had remained in a cell with the injury all night, it is understood, and this forenoon it became so painful that he took off his shoe and stockings and hopped out on one foot when his name was called. It was stated to the court that no medical attendance had been summoned for the man when he was locked up and his Honor ordered that City Physician Tighe be called immediately. Garrigan, who is a parole man from the state farm, had his case continued until tomorrow.

There were two other state farm parole men in court and both cases were continued until an officer from that institution arrives to return with them. They registered as Edward J. Halloran and John Fleming.

Calyx J. Bineault pleaded guilty to two complaints charging non-support of his wife and minor children. Mrs. Bineault stated that her husband had been very delinquent in turning over his money to her for some time and as a result she and her children had to go without proper food and clothing. He was committed to the house of correction for four months. Three first offenders were released.

ROBBED OF $16,000

Buenos Aires Branch of New York Bank Looted—Officials Notified

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Officers of the National City bank received a cable message from the Buenos Aires branch of the bank today stating that the latter had been robbed of $16,000—not $40,000—as stated in press despatches last night. The bank's message did not give any intimation as to the manner in which the money had been stolen, but W. A. Simonson, vice president of the National City bank, said notice had been received from Buenos Aires yesterday that a shortage in the funds of the branch bank had been discovered.

ST. COLUMBA'S PARISH

A delightful musicale and whist party was given last evening in the parish hall, Mammoth street, by the members of the Tabernacle society of St. Columba's parish. It was one of the happiest gatherings seen at the hall this year.

The well arranged musical program proved very enjoyable and the talent who contributed to it were given well merited applause. Among the musical numbers of the evening were the following: Song, Fred Cummings; violin solo, Stephen Callahan; song, Miss Teresa Sullivan, and reading, Miss Ruth Whelton. Joseph McAvinue was the accompanist of the evening.

Following the musical treat whist was played and suitable prizes were awarded. The committee in charge was as follows: Chairman, Miss Rose Flanion; Marie H. Sullivan, Lillian Brown, Catherine Wholey, Laura and Jeannette Cogger, Bernice Dunden, Jennie Dunfee and Madeline Marley.

Best time, A.S.O., F.R. eve.

CHELMSFORD STREET HOSPITAL

The inmates of the Chelmsford Street hospital were treated to a very enjoyable musical program last night by the members of the Palmer minstrels. The affair was held in the chapel of the institution with practically every inmate in attendance. Thomas Dowd was the accompanist of the evening and William Way was the chief director. Much credit for the success of the event is due Superintendent and Mrs. Martin F. Conley, who had the arrangements in charge.

MISTAKEN FOR A DEER

ALDEN QUINBY KILLED WHILE HUNTING—NARROWLY ESCAPED A YEAR AGO

RUMFORD, Me. Nov. 18.—Alden Quinby was accidentally killed yesterday while hunting with a party of seven Rumford and Mexico men on Deer mountain in the Cuscuta region of Rangely lakes. According to the first report which reached here today, Quinby was mistaken for a deer by Claude Clark, one of his companions. Quinby was about 35 and a paper maker by trade. A year ago he narrowly escaped death when his father was killed in an automobile accident.

ENCOUNTERED HURRICANE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The schooner Van Lear black, which left Buenos Aires July 3, with a cargo of quebracho wood for Stamford, Conn., arrived here today. The schooner encountered a hurricane about Sept. 1, and lost all sails and jibboom and put into St. Thomas where she was held thirty-seven days awaiting new sails from Philadelphia.

Among the crew were two officers from a Hamburg-America line steamer, interned at St. Thomas. They were tired of being idle, they said, and shipped on the schooner for New York.

The "Marcella" Skirt-Drawer and Combination is the most practical of all undergarments made. They take the place of an open drawer, closed drawers and a short skirt. The materials used are the finest. The patterns of laces and embroideries are carefully selected and the workmanship is faultless.

This garment was designed by a woman and embodies all the convenience and comfort of modern demands. It fits smoothly over the hips—buttons in front and when properly adjusted has the appearance of a short skirt. The wide skirt in vogue this season makes the "Marcella" the ideal garment.

The "Marcella" is manufactured under the most clean and healthful conditions possible, and is endorsed by the National Consumers League.

Our assortment of the "Marcella" is so extensive that our beautiful window display is only a part of our line. We will gladly show you all the fine, dainty garments at popular prices. Many ladies are already selecting Christmas Gifts from this line. When prettily boxed there is nothing more charming to give or receive.

NASHUA STRIKE MURDOCK SAILS, CONFIDENT IN FUTURE OF PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Fear of Violence When the Mills Open on Monday

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 18.—Fears here generally expressed last night that violence may be expected when the textile mills are reopened next Monday morning. The strike leaders have counseled peace and lawful behavior from the first, and will do everything they can to prevent illegal interference with persons going or returning from work.

They say they can not guarantee, however, to control the 1500 union members and their sympathizers. That the mill managers are still fearful of intimidation is shown by the strong guards who have been provided. The militia who have been in the mills for six weeks will protect the mill property and adjacent streets, and the 100 reserves recently equipped at an expense of $2000 by the police commission will patrol streets leading from the mills to the homes of operatives who wish to go in.

The action of the agents making the day's closing at 4 p. m. is regarded as a protective measure to enable such employees as go in to reach their homes before dark on returning.

FOR AMERICAN REGISTRY

APPLICATION FOR FORMER GERMAN FREIGHTER, SUNK IN THE EARLY DAYS OF WAR, FILED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Application for American registry for the former German freighter Walkure, sunk in the harbor of Papete, Tahiti, by German cruisers in the bombardment of the town in the early days of the war has been made here. It was announced today by John A. Hooper, one of a group of San Francisco business men who bought the submerged derelict.

They bought the vessel two months ago and sent a wrecking crew to raise it and bring it to this port. The vessel, according to last reports, lay in 45 feet of water and was not seriously damaged, only one shell having penetrated the hull.

SOLD AT AUCTION

Birthplace of Walt Whitman, the poet. Went for $18,000—To be Divided Into Building Lots

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The birthplace and former home of Walt Whitman, the poet, at Huntington, L. I., where he absorbed the inspiration for "Leaves of Grass" and other famous poems, was sold at auction yesterday for $18,000 under foreclosure proceedings to satisfy a note given by the owner, a farmer. It was purchased by a real estate dealer. It is reported that the 32-acre farm will be divided into building lots.

VICTOR MURDOCK, WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Before sailing for Europe Victor Murdock, chairman of the national committee of the progressive party, announced that the progressives will present a national ticket in the 1916 presidential campaign, saying, "the progressive party has every reason to plunge into the 1916 campaign with vim, vigor and a determination to win." Mr. Murdock asserts that the democratic program for congress will have that party "churning on the rocks within sixty days." He pictures Bryan and Kitchen as leaders in a mutiny in the democratic crew. As for the republican party, Mr. Murdock sees Mr. Taft as the "national blunderbuss" eliminated from the presidential race by an Ohio conspiracy, in which Herrick and Willis are co-victims with Taft, and Burton the state's favorite son. "After discovering," says Mr. Murdock, "that Mr. Root had been defeated by 500,000 votes in his own state on his own constitution, Mr. Taft has naturally announced that Root is the logical candidate of the republican party."

THE LOWELL SPIRIT

No Lowell man can go to the Casino this week and come away feeling that his city is not alive. Whether for the first or the twenty-first time he will have been convinced that if Lowell is given a chance it will prosper and progress until it heads the list of thriving Massachusetts cities. He will have been lifted out of the pessimistic rinks and taught that all Lowell needs is the proper direction of a constructive and courageous public spirit which is not afraid to plan for the future or too timid to demand the reforms that are necessary for adequate civic expansion.

On the opening evening of the fine show almost five thousand residents attended. Among them were leaders in our manufacturing, industrial, financial and mercantile interests. These must have learned that Lowell is one of the world's greatest workshops, and they were very indeed if they were not lifted out of the stagnant circle of narrow selfishness. As business men, they must have realized the enormous value of an exhibit which drew the leaders of Lowell together for the common good. They must have seen that what will improve the city and give it prestige will ultimately benefit every individual and firm in the city, for the prosperity of a city is merely the collective prosperity of its people, and no progressive city can have a preponderant class of discontented residents, merchants and manufacturers. Lowell's leading men have been shown that under the proper guidance Lowell has a business spirit—and it is for them to so foster that spirit that minor differences of opinion may be brushed aside and that all influential men may work for something worthy of the city's best efforts.

Still more remarkable has been the record since Monday. On Tuesday more than 21,000 persons, most of them adults, passed through the aisles of the Casino filled with admiration for what they saw. Many of them were familiar with the names of the principal exhibitors, but few had ever supposed that Lowell is really of such vast industrial importance in a national sense. Though public patronage had been anticipated, those who planned the show had no idea that the response would be so immediate and so enthusiastic. They saw in the most convincing manner possible that the rank and file of Lowell people also have a public spirit, which, though possibly undeveloped as yet, can do wonders when properly aroused.

This spirit among business leaders and the masses of our citizenship is the greatest asset to any community, and all who have any large influence cannot do better than to foster it. The accusation has been frequently made that Lowell people are ashamed of their city, and instances have been related of Lowell men who, when they register in distant or foreign cities give their home residence as Boston. Any Lowell man who would do this after a visit to the Casino this week is as foolish as he is disloyal. Lowell is really a city of great possibilities, and with the proper conduct of its public affairs it need have no superiors and few equals among cities of its class.

After the creation of such a valuable public sentiment, the time is ripe for the agitation of some genuine reforms. We have come face to face with the real things; let us brush aside the shams and give the city a chance. Suppose any of the great industries that made such a fine showing in the Casino booths had been governed as Lowell has been governed—or misgoverned—what would have been the result? Ruin or disorganization. Private business succeeds because those in charge look for capable men who are sincere in their efforts to advance the interests of their employers and who are able, honest and efficient. Lowell will succeed also if it elects capable, honest and efficient men to office who, with the proper sense of proportion will do the thing that is best for the future of the city and who will honestly depend on popular support to get through the necessary improvements. We have seen that Lowell has a public spirit; let us make use of it for the good of the city and all who call it home.

ENGLAND'S SKELETONS

England, France, Russia and Germany have had their share of internal dissensions during the conduct of the war but none of them has suffered to as great an extent as England, where party bickerings and personal animosities have caused dangerous waves of feeling to counteract the great surge of national determination which is necessary to success. The latest important illustration of this is the speech of Winston Spencer Churchill before resigning his cabinet office to take up the leadership of his regiment. With sensational bravado he answered the charge that have been made against him by press and public and tried to lay the blame on Earl Kitchener and Admiral Sir John Fisher. At the time, Kitchener was on his way to the Balkans on a most serious mission, and could not well reply—even if he would, which is improbable—and Admiral Fisher did not deign to prolong the pernicious and unnecessary debate. Churchill may have been gratified by the cheers he is said to have received in parliament, and by the popularity which his action may win, but he has hurt his country instead of helping it. Had he waited more patiently he might have been vindicated in due time if guiltless, but he should have considered the need for perfect national unity during the present crisis. From time to time leaders in England's public life get up and call for unanimous support of the government, but in parliament and out many influential men are doing their best—consciously or otherwise—to impair national unity. No nation can afford to wash its dirty linen in public at a time when a great war demands the sinking of personal and political feuds for the sake of the national ideal. This war has shown England the source of much internal weakness and the empire will ultimately be the better for the revelation. The leaders in parliament should not expect that the British army could engage in such a frightful war as the present without meeting reverses. The other countries in such cases gird up their loins and fight on. England should not allow the dissident elements to shape her policy or thwart her purpose in a situation in which her very life and future destinies are involved. Democratic government has its drawbacks in war times.

CRITICS OF PRESIDENT

President Wilson will be admired and commended for his manly stand with regard to one of his critics, especially as the critic in question had gone beyond the limits of good taste and sound judgment. George Burditt, assistant postmaster of a Chicago suburb, had been removed from office by his superior for derogatory remarks on the betrothal of President Wilson to Mrs. Galt and in consequence the episode was given undue publicity. As soon as President Wilson became aware of the facts, he ordered the reinstatement of the government official, thus proving that he is not so thin skinned as to resent personal criticism. Throughout his administration the president has shown more than ordinary toleration towards those who, for one reason or another, have questioned his political or private conduct, and for this he will be admired and respected by those who are for fair play. The incident will remind the country of the necessity for being a little more respectful towards its high officials, and there is certainly room for improvement in this particular. America stands for a brand of ridicule and misrepresentation that would not be permitted in any other land, and while the liberty of press and freedom of public discussion are admirable, it is to be feared that many do not distinguish carefully between liberty and license.

FLEEING CHAUFFEURS

From time to time the public has been shocked by press reports of auto accidents in which the drivers responsible have flown from the scene leaving their victims or victims dead or seriously injured. Such instances have called forth strong condemnation, and wishes have been expressed for a law that would treat such cowardly flight as a serious offence. Representative Sawyer of Ware has just filed a bill at the state house which would hold the driver responsible and which in some instances would provide for the punishment of all who might be in the car at the time, provided their guilt could be established. A driver who failed to stop after an accident might be fined from $100 to $1000, or subject to imprisonment from three months to three years, or both. If the victim was killed, the driver who would flee is liable to imprisonment from 10 to 20 years. These penalties will not seem harsh to those who remember some instances of criminal cowardice on the part of guilty drivers for the past few years. Laws cannot automatically guarantee highway safety, but if sneak office who, with the proper sense of proportion will do the thing that is best for the future of the city and who will honestly depend on popular support to get through the necessary improvements. We have seen that Lowell has a public spirit; let us make use of it for the good of the city and all who call it home.

MENTAL DEFECTIVES

Experts in mental diseases come out from time to time with statements that are most disquieting, but they hint at conditions that the state cannot well overlook. It is said for instance that the state institutions do not cope with the number of feeble-minded and insane sent there annually, and it is said furthermore that there are thousands of criminals, ex-convicts, and in our jails who should be in some corrective home or hospital. The state board of insanity held a conference at the state house a few days ago, and it was the view of most of the speakers that there is a great need for social service and the applying of the most modern scientific methods in Massachusetts. It seems to be the view of public and tried to lay the blame on Earl Kitchener and Admiral Sir John Fisher. At the time, Kitchener was on his way to the Balkans on a most serious mission, and could not well reply—even if he would, which is improbable—and Admiral Fisher did not deign to prolong the pernicious and unnecessary debate. Churchill may shortifies that unless more time and attention are given to this timely subject, and more money expended, the state will have an enormous difficulty in preventing the spread of feeble-mindedness in a short time.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for the assessors in making their rounds next year to take Mayor Murphy along with them to see if they cannot push up the market value of machinery of all kinds and also to see after taxing the machinery and stock of merchants and manufacturers everywhere if they cannot also work in a little scheme of double taxation regardless of the law?

The lawyers always say that it is a sure indication that an attorney has a poor case when he depends entirely upon heaping abuses on everyone in sight. This rule it seems can be applied with equal truth to candidates for the stump who evade the main issues and devote their time to attacks on private citizens.

SAVE YOUR HAIR!
25 CENT BOTTLE
STOPS DANDRUFF
Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die. The hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff—tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knab's Dandruff from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over your scalp. Dandruff is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

How to Miss 'Em
In order to miss a train, all one has to do is to ask a hotel clerk and not look up the time-card or telephone the depot.

This method will get you to the station a very few minutes after the train has departed.

When you find the train has gone try to act as if you didn't care.

The people who linger about the depot will guess your guilty secret with the accuracy of a busy Bertha.

And you hate them for it.

What business had they hanging around a station, anyway, after the train has gone?

They did it just on the off chance of enjoying some fool's discomfort.

Why don't they believe that you had rushed into the station, bearing two suit-cases, just to weigh yourself on the depot slot machine?

The ticket agent and the baggage man, of whom you finally bring yourself to ask some more questions after having scolded them for your mistake, answer you with a gentle patience which is the most insulting thing they could use on you.

Finally after reluctantly admitting to yourself that you were wrong, and that nobody on earth was to blame except your fool self, you gather up your stuff, make what arrangements you can to retrieve your bone-head-play, and disappear.

Never tell anybody the real truth about it afterward.

Not "Dry" Yet
The vexed question of alcohol accounts for plenty of wit.

There is Sir Edward Carson's reply in an English court to a judge who pointed out to him the discrepancy between the evidence of two of his witnesses, the one a carpenter, the other a publican.

"That is so, my lord," said Sir Edward; "yet another case of difference between bench and bar."

Another good retort came from Mr. Plowden, who was once taking coffee to his club during a spell of heat, when a fellow-member suggested that he should take cooling drinks.

"Have you tried gin and ginger beer?" he asked.

"No," replied Mr. Plowden dryly. "But I've tried a number of men who have."

Then there was the nervous young barrister who made the Spoonerism:

"I perceive I am addressing a beery wench—I beg your lordship's pardon I meant to say weary bench."

One of the best witlings of Lord Young was his reply to a counsel who was pleading on behalf of a plaintiff of dubious appearance:

"My client, my lord, is a most able man, and holds a very responsible position. He is manager of some water-works."

After a long look Lord Young answered:

"Yes, he looks like a man who could be trusted with any amount of water."

THE BIBLE INSTITUTE

FOUR DAYS' SESSION AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH CLOSED LAST EVENING

The Lowell Bible Institute, which opened in the First Baptist church on Sunday, closed last evening. There was a closing address by Rev. E. B. Peterson, Sunday school secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Sunday School association, on "The End of the Matter."

The total registration for the four days of the session was 485, from seven Lowell churches and three surrounding towns. According to their total enrollment, the percentage of registration present during the institute was as follows: First Baptist, 16 per cent; Calvary Baptist, 17 per cent; Fifth Street Baptist, 13 per cent; Immanuel Baptist, 8 per cent; Concord Street Baptist, 11 per cent; Chelmsford Street Baptist, 20 per cent; Worthen Street Baptist, 32.8 per cent; North Billerica Baptist, 6 per cent; and First Baptist of Chelmsford Centre, 31.8 per cent.

The numbers from the churches were as follows: First Baptist, 147; Calvary Baptist, 58; Fifth Street Baptist, 35; Immanuel Baptist, 6; Paige Street Baptist, 39; Chelmsford Street Baptist, 50; Worthen Street Baptist, 95; North Billerica church, 4; First Church of Chelmsford, 21; and North Tewksbury church, 1.

During the afternoon the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. C. H. Ellis, while Mrs. Reed discussed the story-telling. Mr. Sly's subject was "Securing Attention and Cooperation" and in simultaneous presentation, Miss Weeks discussed "Study With the Juniors." Mrs. Millett spoke on "Ideals and Service," and Mr. Peterson discussed "The Class Session." The last subject of the afternoon was "Increasing the Membership," by Mr. Sly.

Miss Weeks, Mrs. Millett and Mr. Peterson spoke in the evening, the latter giving the closing address, which was devoted to the work of the teachers in the schools. He spoke of their devotion to the work in hand, of the spirit with which they approached it and of the great need of the building of character.

The workers' library, given as a prize to the Sunday school receiving the largest of awards of certificates for note book work, was awarded to the school of the Worthen Street Baptist church. The Worthen Street church also had the largest per cent of enrollment in the institute.

VICTORY FOR ITALIANS

STRONG AUSTRIAN POSITION NORTHWEST OF GORIZIA CAPTURED

ROME, Nov. 17. Via Paris, Nov. 18.—A victory for the Italian forces which are attempting to capture Gorizia was announced tonight by the war office. A strong Austrian position northwest of the city was captured. The statement follows:

"There is great activity on the part of the artillery on both sides all along the front. The enemy's artillery seeks not only to strike at our defenses but above all to destroy systematically the country conquered by us, even where there are no effective garrisons of our troops."

"Thus on Nov. 14, the enemy fired 12-inch shells into the villages of Locca and Beasecca in Concel valley. Yesterday the enemy's batteries directed bombardments against the once flourishing towns of Motta and Lucinco, on the Isonzo plain. These towns are now heaps of smoking ruins."

"Our infantry took by assault a strong entrenchment on the height northwest of Gorizia. In this position we found a heap of corpses and a large amount of war materials."

"On the Carso, in the Monte San Michele zone during the night Nov. 15-16 and one the following morning the enemy renewed his attacks on the positions recently conquered by us. He was repulsed repeatedly, leaving in our hands two machine guns and sixty prisoners, one of whom was an officer."

"Aeroplane of the enemy yesterday dropped bombs on Alla. There was no loss of life or damage to property."

SMITH IS TURNED DOWN

COUNCIL WILL NOT HAVE HIM ON MINIMUM WAGE BOARD—HEARING ON JUDGE O'BRIEN'S CHOICE

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—By a vote of 5 to 2, the executive council yesterday refused to confirm Gov. Walsh's nomination of ex-City Councillor Ernest E. Smith to the minimum wage commission. The appointment was opposed by a large number of manufacturers before the council last week. Councillors Wesscott, Frothingham, Mulligan, Denney and Wright voted against confirmation; Councillors Gov. Cushing and Councilor Buckley voted for it, and Councilor Ham did not vote. Councilor Parker was absent.

"The manufacturers have assumed the appointing power," declared Mr. Smith commenting upon the council's action.

Mr. Smith pointed out to give the minimum wage law a fair trial, for it will be more important after the war. A flood of immigration seems sure to follow and with it the possibility of a bigger law-ence strike. This law might prevent such a strike. He hoped the manufacturers would secure their profits, will not be short-sighted."

The council voted to give a public hearing next Wednesday on confirming Gov. Walsh's appointment of Judge Edward B. O'Brien of Marblehead to succeed David T. Dickinson of Cambridge on the industrial accident board.

AN AFTER-DINNER PILL

Most people eat too much. If you are a hearty eater help your digestion take care of the over-eating by taking one Pinket, the little size granules, after a big dinner. Pinkets gently stimulate the stomach prevent congestion and the many distressing results of over-indulgence at the table.

Pinkets, the new laxative, are greatly superior to old-fashioned medicines which over-stimulate the liver and, when their use is stopped, leave it more torpid than before.

Pinkets do not upset the stomach or cause griping.

Pinkets should be in every household. Do not wait until you need to take them but buy a bottle now. If your druggist cannot supply you send 25 cents to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a full-size bottle.

THE SHIP PURCHASE BILL

SECRETARIES MCADOO AND REDFIELD CONSIDER TENTATIVE DRAFT OF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A tentative draft of the new government ship purchase bill, which will be urged by the administration at the coming session of congress, was considered yesterday at a conference at the treasury department. Secretary Redfield and Solicitor General of the department of commerce went over the proposed measure with Secretary McAdoo.

The draft follows the lines suggested by Secretary McAdoo in a recent speech outlining the purposes of the administration as to naval auxiliaries and the upbuilding of the American merchant marine. Before the measure is put in final form to be presented to congress it will be laid before President Wilson. The plan described by Mr. McAdoo contemplated the expenditure of $50,000,000 by a government shipping board. Through the corporation organized by the board the latter would maintain shipping lines, operating or leasing them to private concerns.

Secretary McAdoo also suggested that the board be given authority to reform shipping rules and regulations, study shipping problems and make recommendations to congress looking toward establishment of a strong merchant marine.

DEFECTIVE BABY DIES

Doctors and Nurses Watch as Infant Passes Away in Throes of Convulsions

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—The unnamed baby of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bollinger, doomed to death by Dr. H. J. Halseiden because it was a defective, died at 7.30 last evening in the German-American hospital. The baby died in convulsions. For a time before its death its body began to turn blue, due to the impurities which the defects of its body would not permit to be cast off in the natural way.

The storm of criticism of the physician and the hospital is bound to rise higher when the social leaders and the public hear of the outcome through the newspapers. And the doctor will have to face an exhaustive examination before the county coroner and the city authorities.

City Investigation
City authorities began an investigation of the conduct of Dr. Halseiden, who, with the consent of the parents, refused to perform an operation on the baby. Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson held a conference with Assistant Corporation Counsel Clifford Roe and was advised not to issue a death certificate.

If the death certificate is refused, the matter will be placed in the hands of Coroner Hoffman and an inquest held. The question whether the child received proper care and attention at the hospital will be one of the points to be decided at the inquiry.

Mother Never Saw the Infant
Callous science, represented by a delegation of critical physicians and trained nurses, sat at the bedside of the child watching it die.

The baby's mother, who consented to its sacrifice, lies in a room near that in which the physicians were awaiting the end. She has never seen her child.

The theory of the racial uplift advanced by the surgeons was a topic of general discussion in clerical, medical and woman's club circles. The hospital telephones were swamped by praises and protests.

"There was considerable divergence of opinion, the physicians being by no means a unit in the endorsement of their colleague, and the clergymen standing firmly for the ethics prohibiting the taking of a life," said the surgeon, who showed signs of the nervous strain under which he has been laboring since he decided not to operate five days ago. "My stand is out of conformity with the notions of many people, but it is sincere. I have the strength of my convictions. I have received much censure already and probably will receive more, but my conscience is clear. It would have been a moral wrong, in my opinion, to allow the child to live."

Criticizes City Officials
"It seems to me that a city which allows a black hand outrage a week, a thousand abortions a day and a deadly automobile accident nearly every round of the clock, is hardly in a position to criticize a man for holding that death is more desirable than life to a defective."

"There is no doubt that this child was mentally subnormal as well as physically deformed. The brain itself was only slightly subnormal, but the cranial nerves were absent or undeveloped. The symptoms pointed strongly to brain trouble. There was no ear on one side, and the ear on the other side was malformed. There was a deformity of the chest and a deformity of the nose. The neck was lacking. There was paralysis of the nerves of the right side of the face, blindness of one eye and malformation of its shoulders."

Cause of the Death
"The deformity which eventually caused death, however, was the closure of an intestinal tract. The condition could have been remedied, but my conscience would not let me do it. This was a question of the sort which every physician must decide for himself, and I was doing what I believe to be right."

Four mothers, patients at the German-American hospital, agreed with Dr. Halseiden.

"If he grew up he would be a hopeless cripple, and would suffer from fits," added the doctor.

"Would his mind be clear? Would his soul be normally alive?" he was asked.

"That I do not know, but the chances are against it."

The questioner cited the case of Roswald Smith of Chicago, a supposedly harmless defective who, after reaching the adult stage killed Hazel Weinstein, for which he was hanged.

Another visitor remarked that Eyedore Dostoevsky, born a defective, who had epileptic fits, developed into a great novelist and one of the greatest psychologists in Europe.

Woman Kidnapped the Babe
An effort to kidnap the defective baby before it died was made yesterday by a woman who said she was a Mrs. Walsh. The woman had the baby for three hours before found in a room of the hospital and deprived of the infant. She said she had read in the papers of the plans made by Dr. Halseiden to let the baby die rather than perform an operation which would enable it to live.

"It isn't right to kill babies," Mrs. Walsh said. "I am opposed to human beings killing each other, and I will do everything I can to prevent the science decree from being carried out."

The baby was placed under a close guard of nurses after the discovery of Mrs. Walsh, who had left a bundle of bedclothes in the baby's crib to restrain the infant. She was not arrested. She would give no address, but was finely dressed.

Dr. Halseiden is a bachelor, but he has not let that interfere with a striking proof that he is a man of intensely humane sentiments. He has adopted two girl babies from the German-American hospital after they had been abandoned by their parents. One of the little girls is four years old and is very bright. The other is a mite of an infant born only a few months ago.

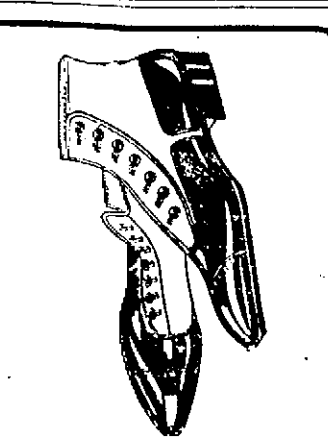

Of course the babies receive the best of care at the physician's home under the direction of nurses of the hospital.

Dr. John Dill of Robertson, Chicago's commissioner of health, who directed the city and county inquiry, said the function of the doctor is primarily the saving of life and the relieving of pain. He said:

"I would like to make a quotation which would seem to fit the case: 'Ages long will tell a story old of triumphs wrought, unending of things once held as naught.'"

"Who can say if this life were saved what it might amount to? I do not know the full particulars of this case. It seems to me that the usual course would be to save the life and let the consequences take care of themselves. I know Dr. Halseiden is a courageous man with the strength of his convictions. Maybe he is right—but it seems that if the physician is to take the right of deciding which life he shall save and which not, it may open a dangerous field."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

CONGRESSMAN O'SHAUGHNESSY AND MAYOR CURLEY PRAISE BOSTON COUNCIL

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Congressman Geo. F. O'Shaughnessy of Providence paid his respects to the ideals of the Knights of Columbus at the banquet last night at the City club, in honor of the 25th anniversary of St. Vernon Council 139, K. of C., of Dorchester.

He declared that the organization is instrumental in fostering a better understanding of loyalty, and that the religious principles taught through its influence did not in any way detract from a dutiful respect for the flag.

Mayor Curley was one of the speakers at the banquet and spoke in glowing tribute of the work being accomplished by the various Boston councils. He told of the plans of a Knights of Columbus building in the Fenway, which district he referred to as the coming civic center of Boston and the universe, and hoped that the proposed building would be completed within six months.

IN BEHALF OF SCHWARTZ

APPEAL TO STATE DEPT. TO PROCURE RELEASE OF AMERICAN CITIZEN HELD IN ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—An appeal was made to the state department yesterday, in behalf of Samuel Schwartz of New York, an American citizen, who is said to have been held in prison in England for more than four months with no charge against him other than that he "is held for deportation." Counsel for the man's wife laid the case before the department and asked that some action be taken toward securing his immediate release. It was said later that the course of the government probably would be to ask the British foreign office to put the deportation order into effect as soon as practicable.

According to the account given the department official, Schwartz, who is also known as Simon Stearn and who is of Hungarian birth, was arrested in a London hotel about a year ago, charged with being an alien enemy who had failed to register properly.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores and wash off this interference greatly with elimination of waste material, infusing instead of adding to the complexion. Ordinary mercerized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of dirt and sebum come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than fortnight you have a lower complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercerized wax obtainable at any drug store, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off in morning. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with pasty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in 1 pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely, even the most obstinate gives surprising results.

Auto Owners

Prepare Your Car for Winter

The approach of cold weather is a signal to automobile owners that cylinders and radiators are liable to freeze when the temperature falls below 32 degrees F.

Prominent automobile engineers recommend the use of denatured alcohol above all other substances to prevent freezing. It is manufactured under the supervision of the United States government.

It is uniformly pure, besides being harmless, efficient and cheap. A quart to each gallon of water in the cooling system is sufficient to prevent freezing when the temperature reaches zero. By increasing the proportion of denatured alcohol the freezing temperature of the mixture is lowered, and it is possible by using equal parts of denatured alcohol and water to prevent freezing at as low as 25 degrees below zero.

Another advantage in the use of denatured alcohol is its value as a carbon remover and engine cleaner. The cylinders of the engine can be kept free from carbon and the valves and piston rings maintained in first-class condition by pouring a wineglassful of denatured alcohol at frequent intervals into each cylinder while the engine is hot, or the engine may be run on alcohol to accomplish the same result by injecting it into the air intake of the carburetor while the motor is running fast. A squirt oil can is a convenient means of introducing the alcohol into the carburetor.

THE SPELLBINDER

They were all at it last night, for while Messrs. Palmer and Murphy were in the Highlands, Messrs. O'Donnell and Thompson were at Broadway, while Dr. Mignault was busy at the clubs.

Former Mayor O'Donnell addressed large gatherings at Pawtucket square and at Broadway last evening. The former mayor expressed regret that Mayor Murphy had violated his promise of two years ago, that he would not be a candidate for a second term, and said that while he appreciated Mayor Murphy's desire for another term, he believed that a man holding such a responsible position should not lightly break the promise that had made to his fellow-citizens. Then he called attention to another piece of deception connected with the second term promise; the fact that Mayor Murphy allowed or caused statements to be made to the effect that he had asked him to be a candidate for a second term, when the mayor himself had made all the arrangements for staging the petition and the subsequent meeting. As a matter of fact, Mr. O'Donnell said there were not over 60 names on that petition and not all of them were qualified voters of Lowell.

Then he recalled Mayor Murphy's promise that no contract labor would be considered in the work to be done on the filtration plant, which promise had been broken, and he named several other promises that had not been kept. Having said these things in mind he asked the public if they would not be justified in discounting every statement made by Mayor Murphy during this campaign, particularly when the mayor himself has said that a man will say anything in the heat of a political contest that might bring support.

Former Mayor O'Donnell called attention to the fact that under the administration of Mayor Murphy the tax rate has been $21.30 and $20.80, the highest and greatest in the history of the city, and that under Mayor Murphy the actual running expenses had increased over $30,000 a year, and that yet with the highest tax rate and increased running expenses but very little of a permanent and constructive nature has resulted. He pointed out the amount of construction work done during his own two years as mayor or less, with a tax rate of $19.40 and $19.50. He pointed out that when the school board demanded better accommodations in the line of a larger school in West Centralville the demand was granted and a splendid provision came into existence. He also pointed out the fine brick building that had been constructed in Broadway for the use of the health department, and which had been needed for years. He referred to the remodeling of the fire houses, the construction of the comfort station, the new building at the Chelmsford Street hospital, the duplication of a vital part of the water system, the new concrete bridges, the extension of Fairmount street and several other permanent improvements that had been made.

In his Pawtucketville speech the former mayor dwelt upon the bungling attempts of the mayor to construct a Pawtucket bridge. An engineer from out of town was brought here and told to go ahead before any plans or specifications had been drawn up or thought out. He called attention to the failure of the government to provide proper and adequate school accommodations for the children, despite the fact that their attention had been frequently called to this vital public need. There was not money enough for such things he said, though there was plenty to provide automobiles and to hire chauffeurs to operate them.

Thompson Starts Out
Perry D. Thompson, handicapped by a cold that interfered with his talking, yielded to the demands of his friends and took the stump last evening. At Broadway and Wilbur St. he talked to the crowd that also listened to former Mayor O'Donnell, while at Billerica and Lawrence St. he had the boat-house boys all to himself.

Mr. Thompson made a good impression and he held himself aloof from severe criticism of his opponents and personalities. He stated that under this charter a man has a right to run for mayor when he chooses and is under no obligations, either personal or political, to stand aside for two years simply to allow somebody else to gratify his personal ambition. He stated that his candidacy does not represent any particular political party, race, section or interest. He said he was a candidate as a citizen and would represent all citizens if elected. As an evidence of his non-political tendencies he quoted the case of the reduction of evening school teachers, a reform introduced and successfully carried out by him while a member of the school board which has completely eliminated this important feature of the school system from politics. He stated that if elected Mayor of Lowell he would put the merit system in force at city hall and he believed that by the elimination of politics in the matter of appointing the working forces of the city much better results will be obtained and general satisfaction will be given the public.

At Westford and Pine Streets

One of the striking evidences of the growth and development of the Highland district is the fact that while a few years ago a campaign speaker would not more think of going to the corner of Westford and Pine streets to address a gathering of voters, than he would take one of the cemeteries for his forum, now it has become a regular one night stand for the candidates.

Last evening there were four speakers under the big light at this junction, Jackson Palmer, Abel R. Campbell, Mayor Murphy and James F. Miskella, and for over an hour and a half a continuous flow of political talk was heard from the speakers, who were graced by the presence of more than a hundred out-door meetings while several automobiles offered seats for the night, as it were, at the oratorical battle.

Jackson Palmer gave in a favorable impression, though much of his matter has been given before at the other places where he has talked.

Referring to Mayor Murphy's attack on the proprietor of The Sun, Mr. Palmer, after explaining that he holds no brief for him, and is on the opposite side of the fence politically, put it up to the mayor for allowing a state of affairs to go on for two years, without removing the assessors. He stated that Mayor Murphy's attention had been previously called to the assessors but that his Honor had refused to take any action relative to them and he alleged that with the claim that the mayor was interested in the office through certain prominent business men who are powers in national, state, county and local politics. They had dictated the appointment of a postmaster and later when he resigned secured for him a special appointment in the district attorney's office and then dictated the appointment of his successor in the post office. Now, he said, they have raised a big campaign fund for Mayor Murphy and demand his re-election.

Later in the evening Mayor Murphy attempted to "cover up" on the Harrington taxation matter by saying, "I didn't know about Harrington's taxes until a few weeks ago when a gentleman suggested that I look up his taxes." Somewhat different from his claims earlier in the week.

Mr. Palmer referred to a statement made by Mayor Murphy after the day that His Honor had refused permission to a friend of Palmer's to run a tub game on the common on July 4, and for that reason made an enemy. Mr. Palmer said that while the mayor was boasting of the success of the Fourth of July celebration a good share of the revenue from that celebration came from gambling game privileges on the common permitted by Mayor Murphy, the supposed foe of all forms of gambling.

Mr. Palmer, before concluding his remarks, referred to the needs of the Highland district, especially the need of a better water pressure in the district and his need for improved streets. He suggested the sale of the Franklin school, the use of the present Westford street fire house as a school, and the erection of a new fire house.

Abel R. Campbell came along immediately after Mr. Palmer and he and his friends and neighbors talked almost exclusively on neighborhood matters. After quoting from local statistics relative to the great increase in population and taxable property in the Highlands district, Mr. Campbell set forth the needs of the district.

Beginning with fire protection, he offered two remedies: first the purchase of a young and active horse for the Westford street fire house and secondly its continuance under such conditions with the addition of a small fire house either at the corner of Stevens and Parker streets or at the upper junction of Westford and Pine streets. Following the subject of fire he discussed the need for a better water pressure in the district and quoted the cases of the fires in Friend Bros. bakery; the McMenemen greenhouses and the recent dwelling house fire in Bond street, at all of which the firemen were hampered by insufficient water pressure. He referred to the unsafe and overcrowded condition of the schools in the district, quoting the case of the Highland school where children are being taught in the attic. He stated that last January State Inspector Carey demanded fire escapes on the Highland and Lincoln schools, but they have not been applied and Commissioner Putnam in explanation of his failure to meet the requirements of law had stated that the commission wouldn't give him the necessary money. Mr. Campbell called for an investigation of the Cook wells, the water of which has been such a boon to the residents of the Highlands. He stated that the last report upon them made by the state board of health was in 1911, namely 17, and that at that time it was stated that their objectionable feature could be eliminated by the expenditure of a comparatively small amount of money.

Mayor Murphy followed Mr. Campbell and his remarks were similar to those of his previous speeches except that he became somewhat mixed. His Honor stated that if men like John H. Harrington would stop swearing off their taxes instead of letting the poor people pay all the taxes, Lowell would have a tax rate of $17 or $18. At Centralville the previous evening he stated that the rate would be $18 or $16. He can't raise it much or we'll have the same rate we're having at the present time. Last night he said a hawk driver had stated that he made from $10 to $12 nightly around the hotels under the O'Donnell administration and nothing under Murphy. The previous evening he reported the hawk driver as having made from $15 to $20 nightly. He did not state that the taxi and the hawk have put all of the hawk drivers out of business. In quoting the provisions for violating the milk law, His Honor repeatedly referred to them as prosecutions for violation of the liquor law and got his audience all mixed up between liquor and milk.

Mayor Murphy repeated his statement that he had affidavits made by Mr. Harrington, before Assessors Abel R. Campbell and James F. Miskella, that he was guilty of a violation of the statute which forbids the disclosure of such affidavits. His Honor mentioned only Mr. Blazon, though there are two other assessors. Mr. Blazon's leaning to Dr. Mignault may or may not have been responsible for the mention of his name.

The final speaker was James F. Miskella and though the hour was late he held the crowd until he had concluded. Mr. Miskella quoted the section of the charter making the different commissioners the heads of departments and stated that if elected he would be the head of the departments to which he was assigned and would receive all persons having any business with the department rather than delegating a subordinate to attend to them. He criticized this government for the introduction of contract labor to Lowell and declared himself unalterably opposed to contract labor on public works. He advanced the argument that public service corporations using the city's streets should be taxed thereby making them share the general burden of taxation.

Word Passed 'Round'
The word has been passed around in the street and sewer departments: "Vote for Murphy and Morse." Naughty little bullet!

Addressed Car 'Shop Men'
Jackson Palmer pulled off another original stunt this morning when he addressed the 15 carloads of car shop employees at the depot before they went to work at 6.15 o'clock. The surprised car shop men gave Jackson a big hand.

Yes, Verily Nota Bene
Under the significant heading, "Nota Bene," the Courier-Citizen yesterday had the following paragraphs:

"The question for mayoralty candidates isn't so much, 'How well can you talk?' but 'What have you done?'"

And—
"Every candidate makes fair promises and it's easy to see that as to probable fulfillment thereof can be found only by scrutinizing the records of performances and general conduct hitherto made."

Such statements coming from a newspaper that has done its best to help along the cause of Mayor Murphy in the past, and hence it will not be surprising that the Courier-Citizen under its hands as the result of that influence one term promise and the colossal list of failures piled up by the Murphy administration.

Mayor Murphy's Big Claim

Mayor Murphy's biggest and proudest claim in this campaign is that the police records show a less number of arrests for drunkenness than in the two years of the prior administration which undoubtedly is gospel truth. Life is too short to attempt to figure out just what relation the number of arrests for drunkenness has to the highest tax rate in the history of the city, and hence it will not be attempted. But speaking of arrests for drunkenness, the fact that there were a smaller number arrested for drunkenness doesn't prove that there was less drunkenness in Lowell, by any means. Making arrests for drunkenness is optional with the police officers. If they are told to gather up all the drunks, the arrests are many, but if they are told to go light, then we may read of Judge Enright being presented a pair of white gloves, as the result of no arrests at all. But then, it may be that there really has been less drunkenness in Lowell of late, and if such is the fact it is probably due to the exercise of greater care and discretion on the part of the liquor dealers as the result of the frequent visits of Mayor Murphy's secretary, Mr. Cull, to the saloon-keepers of the city. The latter has been visiting the liquor dealers and very probably his mission was to talk to them on the conduct of their business. Surely none would accuse him of visiting the liquor men to intimidate them or even to solicit their political support for the mayor, while we can personally vouch for his own sobriety and good habits.

Locks and Canals Exhibit

A correspondent suggests that the Locks & Canals company should have an exhibit at the Casino known as an "evening" product of the Locks & Canals company, consisting of the photographs of over 1000 children who have been drowned in the unprotected waterways of the city since the establishment of the Locks & Canals. And he further suggests that as it might be impossible to get pictures of all who were drowned in the past the company might confine its exhibit to the 21 who have been drowned since the present administration has been in office. The company is not directly responsible for all the drownings in its various waterways, but it is responsible for all drownings due to badly fenced canals.

Morse Visits Highlands

The residents of upper Stevens street sang: "Welcome, Stranger!" upon seeing Commissioner Morse personally as he was visiting the operations of a steamroller on that street yesterday morning. Some of the residents of that section have been heard to complain that the visits of the street department to the upper Highlands during the past year have been like those of angels and hence their delight at seeing the commissioner himself on deck.

Donnelly Some Thinker

If anybody entertains the idea that James E. Donnelly can't make a speech he should ring off, for Jimmie has started to make speeches in this campaign, and those who have heard them state that they have the punch. In one of his speeches, Mr. Donnelly made the claim that he was not defeated from lack of votes, last year, but through the skilful manipulation of the counter in one of the precincts. Mr. Donnelly asks votes on the ground that he has had practical experience in several of the municipal departments.

Denying Rumors

Now the denying of rumors by the different candidates has begun, which, of course means that someone has previously started the rumors in circulation. Last year Frank Ricard was defeated for the nomination by about 200 and he claimed that his defeat was brought about by an untrue rumor started at the 11th hour to the effect that he was running in combination with another candidate. This year, Mr. Ricard states, someone has started a similar rumor and he wants it understood that he is not and will not be in any combine with any candidate, scheme or interest. He says, if elected, he will represent the entire

TO THE VOTERS OF LOWELL

SIRS: If I am elected mayor I will make an honest effort to do my duty unhampered by any alliances, agreements or pledges except those made openly to the public.

I will hold the heads of my departments responsible for the duty imposed upon them and the laws will be enforced impartially with the aim of extending equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

I Will Not Be a Candidate For a Second Term

Because I realize one object of the present charter was to do away with the re-election of mayors and because I believe if unhampered with plans and labor necessary to bring about a continuation of two additional years in office I can perform my official duties to better advantage, and because I purpose not only to go into office free of any ties and personal obligations but I desire to remain so during my entire term. Under such conditions there should be no reason why, if elected, I cannot leave office with as much respect as I enter it, and this is my greatest ambition.

Hoping that you will see your way clear to vote for me Tuesday, Dec. 9th, I am

ely rather than any clique or interest.

Someone has started a rumor to the effect that Abel R. Campbell is in a combing to throw out the democratic office-holders at city hall and this he vigorously denies.

Wanting Much Energy

It would appear that Mayor Murphy is wanting a lot of energy in this campaign, making several speeches, when already he has the nomination won by several thousand votes. His Honor states that 7000 voters have asked him to be a candidate again, and that they were so desirous of having him for mayor that they demanded that he seek his word of honor, something held sacred by most men. In the city of Lowell there are 15,000 male voters. With 7000 voters pledged to Mayor Murphy, there are 8000 to split between O'Donnell, Mignault, Thompson and Palmer, and regardless of how that vote may be split, no other two men can get over 7000 votes each, and hence it is impossible for Mayor Murphy not to be nominated. If he has 7000 votes. Then, if it is impossible for him not to be nominated why is he making such desperate appeals to the voters, and why is he persistently using personal abuse, the sure sign of a defeated candidate?

Palmer on Milk

Jackson Palmer, following his promise of last week, has claimed throughout the city in his speeches of the last few days that the present head of the department of public safety has disregarded the provisions of chapter 714 of the acts of 1911. This act provides that the city shall appropriate money to provide for the safeguarding of the conditions at the dairies so that the source of the milk supply of the city may be sanitary. All dairies are required to receive a certificate that they have been inspected and that the conditions under which the milk is produced are free from filth and danger of disease germs. If any producer of milk ships milk into Lowell without such a certificate and without inspection the producer is liable to a penalty for violation of the criminal law.

Mr. Palmer asserts that there is no

"DRY" CAMPAIGN IN HUB

MAJ. SMITH CHARGES LIQUOR INTERESTS DEFEATED GOV. WALSH—PREDICTS NO LICENSE DEC. 14

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Major Morgan Smith of Chicago, opening up the campaign for a "dry" Boston at the next election, in Faneuil hall yesterday, charged the liquor interests with the defeat of Gov. Walsh and attacked them for their interference in politics. "Boston dry Dec. 14 is more than a possibility; it is a probability," he declared.

Maj. Smith was greeted by a responsive audience of several hundred persons. The rally is the first of a daily series to be conducted until Dec. 14 by the Anti-Saloon League. George A. McKinnon of Boston presided. Major Smith is a national speaker of the league, member of the National Guard, former special assistant United States district attorney and investigator of social conditions.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered for over three years. I tried remedies after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proved itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today to Mark H. Jackson, No. 378 B. Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Jackson is responsible. THE LADY'S WORKBAG

The dainty caps that are so easily made transform even an ugly woman into a pretty one. Is there anything more trying than a woman with her hair done up in curl papers? Even a beauty may well look ugly in such a condition, and the majority of women are not blessed with naturally curly locks.

The caps can be worn at night and cover the head completely at the same time giving the hair plenty of air. They should always be made of very thin material.

They are cut circular, with lace and beading about the edge. A sheer material like lawn with Valenciennes imitation lace about the edge is quite as effective as more expensive material and will wear longer. Narrow ribbon is run through the beading and may be drawn up closely about the head and tied. A bow can be sewed on the left side.

One of the new carriage sets for the wee baby is easily made at home. It consists of a pillow, carriage robe and strap. Both are made from dotted muslin with frills of the same, the hem of the frill being edged with narrow lace. The lining of the robe may be of any delicate color, and the pillow cover will, of course, be slipped over a pillow covered with the same material as the lining of the robe.

A strip of white satin ribbon or matching the lining and having a full rosette at each end, is placed on the robe and a similar rosette is on a corner of the pillow. The unlined robe, placed over a piece of rubber sheeting, may be used by the mother for a lap robe on state occasions. The strap is made from satin ribbon three inches wide and lined the same as the robe. A rosette at each end finishes it.

The little pieces of embroidery for baby's wardrobe always form a fascinating form of needlework for the mother or friend who loves pretty things and also loves to make them. Working on one of these will make the time pass much more quickly; while waiting in a railroad station for instance, if one is so unfortunate as to lose her train. It is surprising how very quickly one of these little articles can be completed if kept in the hand bag and worked upon at odd moments.

When made from wash fabrics the soiling need not be minded, for each must be laundered before being used. A charming nightgown may be made of white cashmere, cut all in one piece, with slits to form the sleeves.

Cut in one piece also is the exquisite little cap which is worked with a simple ribbon in satin stitch. This is seamed at the sides and buttonholes appear at the sides and back, through which ribbons are run.

A traveler's apron is very convenient and easy to make. Buy a yard and an eighth of rubbered silk, yard wide and four yards of red tape for binding the apron and the pockets. Cut a small apron with rounded corners, five small pockets and one large one.

The large pocket is to be divided into three sections for a comb, brush and manicure implements. The small pockets are to be used for hairpins, powder, washcloth, nailbrush, and all other little things a woman needs when making her toilet. The apron may be rolled into a small space and tucked into the suitcase until needed. When in use, tied securely about the waist, everything will be within easy reach.

Here is an excellent method to keep a bias seam from sagging. Sew the article by machine, then comb it with your fingers as much as the material will permit, allowing the thread to break.

Now sew the seam again, keeping it well stretched all the time. This plan may be applied to any fabric, but it is especially good for wash materials, and a button on the skin could not be in this way, will not sag at the sides or back.

Before finishing the lower edge of a skirt—and let this be the last thing you do to it—try it on and mark all of the bias places, then put it on a skirt hanger or form and attach small weights to each marked edge. Let the skirt hang in this way for three or four days, then cut off even and hem.

If buttonholes have become worn or frayed on a woollen garment, sew a small piece of cloth over each side of the old buttonhole, attaching it down flatly all around. Then cut and make a new buttonhole right over the old one. If you have no pieces of the cloth, dark colored lint on tape may be used. This applies to linens or cottons.

Instead of a pencil use a small darning needle to mark the perforations in linen and percale frocks. In this way you can mark both sides at once and will have no unsightly pencil marks to erase.

DEMAND THAT WORK WHILE IN BOSTON PORT END AT 5 P. M.—SEVEN VESSELS TIED UP

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—A general strike is threatened among the crews of the steam trawlers of the port because the men demand that the hours of labor cease at 5 p. m. while the vessels are in port. Seven of the nine trawlers owned by the Bay State Fishing company are tied up at East Boston because of the strike, and the other two, the Foam and Spray, which were unloading fish at the South Boston fish pier yesterday, will probably go out of commission as soon as the fish is unloaded.

The men express satisfaction with their wages and working conditions at sea. The company, it is reported, has declined to accede to the demands and the officers of the company refused to make a statement.

The Trident Fisheries company was notified Tuesday afternoon that part of the crews of their two vessels, the steamers Long Island and East Hampton, had gone on strike in sympathy with the Bay State men. New men manned the East Hampton and she left the fish pier at midnight Tuesday for the fishing grounds. The Long Island will probably get away today with new men in her crew.

A QUICK, SURE WAY TO END CATARRH

Catarrh Glands Dried by Millions in Air Passages of Nose and Throat—Just One Way to Drive Them Out

To stop catarrh for good you must drive from your system the germs that cause catarrh and that are now feeding and growing fat upon the swollen inflamed mucous membranes of your nose and throat.

A tried and true means of destroying catarrh germs and overcoming catarrh has long been recognized by physicians in the well known oil of lysolol (pronounced high-gol) and it is now a very simple matter for any catarrh sufferer to use it with splendid results at home, by breathing its air through a little hard rubber inhaling device which leading druggists are supplying with each large complete treatment. Just pour a few drops of the oil of lysolol into this inhaler, place it between your lips and then breathe naturally and the pleasant smelling antiseptic, germ killing air will penetrate deep down into every fold and crevice of your raw, sore nose, throat and lungs and give you quick certain relief, opening up the air passages, making you breathe easily, stopping the inflammation and discharge and driving from your system every catarrh germ that has found lodgment there.

If you want to be free from every symptom of catarrh, are tired of trying one thing after another without benefit go to any reliable drug store, chemist or pharmacist and get a complete lysolol outfit, use it every day for a few minutes and if it does not drive the catarrh germs out of your system and give you real lasting relief from catarrh, your druggist will give you your money back.

PIMPPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Change the blood, the bowels and the liver with Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the only tablets for liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

INCOMPARABLE GRACE

Pussy willow satin of flesh color is used for this beautiful effect. The full tunic falls over a net foundation, tucked in ends giving a piquant finish. A net bolero, covered with opalescent beads, harmonizes with the beaded front panel and high girle. The length is convenient for dancing.

KING GEORGE SHOCKED

ANGLIA, SUNK BY MINE, RECENTLY CONVEYED HIM FROM WAR FRONT AFTER HIS ACCIDENT

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The British hospital ship Anglia was sunk by a mine in the English channel yesterday. Three hundred men were saved out of a total of 655.

A statement issued by the Official Press bureau gave the news of the disaster. It said that of the 13 officers and 372 men on board the Anglia, 390 had been saved.

The following official communication concerning the disaster was made public: "The war office reports that the hospital ship Anglia struck a mine in the channel today and sank. The total number on board was 423 officers and 372 men of other ranks, of whom about 390 were saved by a patrol vessel.

"Another ship proceeding by the rescue was also sunk by another mine. (This was the collier Lusitania.)

"Another official communication says: "King George was shocked to hear that the Anglia, which so recently conveyed him across the channel, had been sunk. His majesty is grieved at the loss incurred by the tragedy that the survivors have not unduly suffered from their terrible experience."

STORY FROM DOVER

DOVER, Eng., Nov. 15.—The hospital ship Anglia with about 300 wounded men aboard, in addition to the crew, nurses and attendants, bound from France for Dover, struck a mine in mid-channel yesterday and sank in a very short time. Nearly 100 men, most of them seriously wounded and therefore in their coats, lost their lives. The collier Lusitania, which was near by at the time of the accident, immediately went to the assistance of the Anglia and her boats had just been lowered when she also struck a mine and foundered. All her crew were saved.

A patrol vessel succeeded in rescuing 360 of the Anglia's passengers and crew, including some nurses. A number of bodies were recovered.

The Anglia was a merchantman which was taken over by the British admiralty after the war broke out and refitted as a hospital ship. She was commissioned in August of last year. She was in charge of Commander Oscar V. de Satse, retired.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

MISS BROOKS TELLS OF THE WORK OF CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION WORKERS IN INDIA

Speaking last night at Kitson hall on her impressions gathered in a recent trip around the world, Miss Louisa Brooks, a national board secretary in the department of conferences and conventions of the Y.W.C.A., said that the Christian workers in the large cities in India have to deal with modern conditions; yet in the streets there is a strange mixture of the old and the new. With electric lights, plate glass windows, department stores and taxicabs, on a corner you will come upon a man having a tooth pulled, or one being shaved. The good of the Y.W.C.A. is apparent when we know that girls are coming into the cities from the country, to earn their living, just as they are doing here.

She spoke of the women's clubs in Bombay, where gorgeously dressed native women of the higher classes are discussing woman suffrage, and where the young girls in their gowns are doing the same thing. These women speak English fluently, and they are not behind the times.

CARDINALS AT CELEBRATION

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—The 50th anniversary of the ordination of Archbishop Prendergast of this diocese was observed here yesterday in conjunction with the golden anniversary of the dedication of the cathedral.

Cardinal Gibbons and Cardinal Farley, with Archbishop Bonzano, the papal delegate, were among the large number of clergymen present at the pontifical mass, which was celebrated by Archbishop Prendergast. A letter congratulating Archbishop Prendergast in the Pope's handwriting was read.

AUSTRIAN RAID

Aeroplane Threw Bombs on Belluno, Italy, This Morning

BELLUNO, Italy, Nov. 17, via Paris, Nov. 18. 1 a. m.—An Austrian aeroplane threw five bombs on the city at 8 o'clock this morning but only one of them exploded. Three persons were slightly injured. No material damage was done.

The report of the aerial raid on Belluno apparently clears up the Rome despatch sent out last night by the Stefani News agency, which said an Austrian aeroplane appeared "over the city" at 8 o'clock and dropped five bombs. The name of the plane was not given and it was inferred the despatch might refer to Rome.

Belluno is on the Piave, 51 miles north of Venice.

WAS TAKEN FOR RACCOON

JOSEPH FONTAINE FATALLY SHOT WHILE HUNTING IN EAST PALMER WOODS

WEST WARREN, Nov. 18.—Joseph Fontaine, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fontaine, proprietors of the Quabog hotel here, was fatally shot about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon while hunting in the East Palmer woods.

The shot was fired by Wallace Caldwell, about 40 years old, of New Bedford, who, glimpsing Fontaine through the trees, mistook him for a raccoon. The slug passed through his head and he lived only about 15 minutes. In charge of a Special Constable, the Boston police and Arthur Howard of New Bedford were with him at the time and Howard's coat was cut by the shot.

Caldwell was greatly overcome by the fatal accident. He returned here with Fontaine's body and gave himself up to Police Officer Clarence L. Thompson. He was not arrested here, but later Chief P. J. Crimmins came

"Personally Conducted" Economy Trips to California

If you can go to California in a comfortable through sleeping car, by the most interesting scenic route, at a great saving in expense, and in charge of a Special Conductor, paid to look after details and explain the points of interest; then why spend a lot of money on costly "limited" train service? You can go on a Burlington Route "Personally Conducted" Party. That way is not only much more economical, but much more interesting as well. Through Colorado at no extra cost.

from Palmer and last night Caldwell was under arrest there pending investigation of the case.

Young Fontaine, like Inspector Rooney and Howard, had been out deer hunting, and the three men were sitting together on a rock, talking of the day's sport, when the shot was fired. Inspector Rooney first found Caldwell, who, realizing what he had done, was overwhelmed with grief. Then, as Fontaine was still living, he sent for Dr. Harry H. Moore, but he could do nothing.

Fontaine's father was also hunting about a quarter of a mile away, and he and the others took the lad's body back to the hotel in Dr. Moore's automobile. As the accident occurred within the bounds of Palmer, Medical Examiner Jacob P. Schneider of that town was called to view the body.

Young Fontaine since leaving school had helped his father about the hotel. Beside his parents, he leaves a brother, Horace Fontaine.

ARMING FOR DEFENSE

DR. DOLE SAYS THAT ARMING FOR DEFENSE ALONE PRESUPPOSES IMMORALITY OF OTHER NATIONS

The Merrimack Valley conference of Universalist churches which opened at 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon in the Grace church on Princeton street was concluded late yesterday afternoon. The addresses at the afternoon session were given by Rev. C. H. Dole, D.D., of Jamaica Plain and Rev. W. H. Morrison, D.D., of Nashua, N. H.

Dr. Dole spoke on "A Radical Peace Program." After reading a selection from a noted German writer named Nietzsche in which the statement was made that the theory of a government aiming for defense only, presupposes immorality on the part of other nations, taking for granted that, though we ourselves have no sinister intent, yet other nations cannot be trusted. From the standpoint of morality, then, the doctrine of the army as a means of self-defense must be abandoned as completely as the lust of conquest. He said in part:

These sayings of a man who had abjured Christianity seem singularly apropos. In view of the remarks made by our Congressman Gardner, Nietzsche is thought by some to be behind all this German militarism; but when I read that man's fair play aside Christianity, yet lays down such a marvelous proposition of the enlightened nation's duty, it seems to me that whether a man ever can get rid of that desire, whether it is not a great deal deeper than he thinks it is.

Just what do people mean, when they talk about defense for America? They talk to mean, if they are honest in theory of defense, that they suppose that some nation is coming over here to invade the United States and destroy our lives and property. They ought to presuppose some actual enemy on the part of those who attack us. Let us see what they really mean. What did it mean when some hot-headed people talked about war because of the sinking of the Lusitania? Was it for defense of America? There was no enemy on the part of the German people, English as we think it was. The wicked had created a tremendous blockade, and Germany in self-defense created another artificial blockade, and warned all others out of the zone of that blockade. What happened to America? It was not an act of aggression and enmity against us, and it created no justification whatever for one nation embroiling itself in the war. What does common sense dictate when there is a row in the street? You are justified in the use of the street, but do you insist on going through that street and in expecting to get reprisal from the combatants, if you are injured? You would naturally keep out of the street for a while, and then put your energy, not in punishing somebody, but in fixing things so that there would be no more rows or riots in your streets.

There are just two nations out of the whole world, that we have the slightest reason to fear—Germany and Japan. Why should Germany, after this hideous war, be supposed to come over to us to attack and destroy us? After the war the great need of all the world, Germany included, will be to settle the bonds of trade and travel and intercourse and commerce, just as quickly as possible—with America first of all, because they need America.

Japan is naturally disposed to be friendly with America. The only reason we should fear Japan is because we want to be ready to insult her with impunity, and she might see fit to resent it, because we have done her wrong. Is that worthy of a civilized and Christian nation?

They will say that we must have an army for police purposes. That is a curious fallacy. An army is not a police. The business of a policeman is supposed to be a friend to every man on his beat. An army is an organization of men banded together, trained, and expected to kill. The soldier looks to that for promotion. Underlying that, lies the old passion of the animal.

But, they say, would America alone be safe in putting aside all preparation for national defense? I say, if one-fourth of the people in the churches really believed in their religion, we would be safer without any army and navy at all. I believe that every effort we make to increase our army and navy, is an advertisement of our fear and expectation of war. We did not wait until all the governments of the world were ready, before we became a democratic government. We went ahead and took it up; and if we never met made a complete success of it, we have made it at least the best government there is.

FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

SERVICES OF ENTIRE MEMBERSHIP OF D. A. R.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—President Wilson will be offered the services of the entire membership of the Daughters of the American Revolution to aid in the cause of national defense in any way he should see fit. Resolutions delegating Mrs. William Cummins Story, president, tomorrow wait upon the president-general, and proffer the co-operation of the 115,000 members and endorsing the movement for national defense were adopted at the regular monthly meeting yesterday of the national board of management of the organization.

LEFT FOOT CRUSHED—John Hanson, who lives at the Y.M.C.A., had his left foot badly crushed while at work in the storehouse of the Merrimack mills late yesterday afternoon when he was caught in the elevator shaft. The ambulance was called and he was removed to the Lowell hospital.

IT'S YOUR LIVER! YOU'RE BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK!

Don't stay constipated with breath bad, stomach sour or a cold

Enjoy life! Live your liver and bowels tonight and feel fine.

WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Tonight sure! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cathartics from the drug store now? Eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cathartics never gripe or bother you all the next day like calomel, salts and pills. They act gently but thoroughly. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cathartic any time. They are harmless and children love them.

MOANS OVER THE PHONE

LYNN OPERATOR SENDS HELP THAT SAVES WOMAN'S LIFE—FOUNDED UNCONSCIOUS

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Should the physicians at the Union hospital at Lynn succeed in saving the life of Mrs. Delia R. Higgins, 70, a wealthy widow who lives at 579 Western avenue, Lynn, she will owe her life to the fact that an operator in the telephone exchange at Lynn heard her moan as she tried to ask for help.

Mrs. Higgins has been suffering from heart trouble for some time and when she suffered an attack yesterday morning she tried to call a physician. The operator heard her moans and notified the wire department. When they sent an investigating crew the woman was discovered unconscious and was removed to the hospital.

A healthy woman averages 75 steps a minute when walking at an average speed.

NEW OFFERS TO RUMANIA

FORMER PREMIER CARP SAYS RUMANIA WILL JOIN GERMANY IN DECEMBER

BUCHAREST, Nov. 17, via London, Nov. 17.—(Delayed in transmission)—Former Premier Carp is credited by the newspaper Advertiser with the statement that Rumania will take up arms on the side of Germany in December. The prediction is made by M. Carp that as soon as established communication makes it possible Germany will make new offers to Rumania in the form of an ultimatum requiring a reply within 48 hours.

HEAVY GRAIN SHIPMENTS

More Than 2,500,000 Bushels Will Be Sent Abroad Through Boston During Next Few Weeks

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—In a steady stream from the west export grain is flowing toward Boston, and during the next few weeks more than 2,500,000 bushels will be shipped from this port. In addition to the steamers, the regular liners, all of which will carry cereal, a fleet of freighters has been chartered to help move the grain to Europe.

The first "tramp" is expected to arrive here before the end of the week. The reliance, on her way from Marseilles, is due tomorrow or Friday to load a full cargo of grain for Great Britain.

The steamers Burnaby, Moorby, Eversley and Cladunoor will all load grain for Great Britain. The steamers Stylian, Bebis, Westony, Maria Stathatos and Kallimeris have been chartered to load full grain cargoes for Italian ports.

Never have so many steamers been chartered to load grain here. Owing to the demand for tonnage the rates continue abnormally high.

WOOD LEADS IN HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, Nov. 17.—In the municipal aldermanic primary today, Alderman Roswell L. Wood, head of the highways department, and Charles M. Hoyt, police commissioner, were renominated, together with Elmer S. Atwood, former alderman, and Michael J. Kelleher, who was defeated last year after qualifying.

ON SPECIAL MISSION

M. Stratos, Former Greek Minister of Marine, On His Way to Germany—Supposedly on Special Mission

ROME, Nov. 16, via Paris, Nov. 17.—It is announced by the newspapers that M. Stratos, former Greek minister of marine, is on his way to Switzerland, whence he will go to Germany, supposedly on a special mission.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Epworth league of the Central M. E. church held a social at the home of Mrs. Lydia Keene, 21 Nesmith street, last evening. The following pleasing program was given: Piano solo, Miss Causey; reading, Mrs. Grace Williamson; song, Mrs. John Peacock; piano duet, Misses Alice Laprise and Alice Falawn. Refreshments were served by Misses Lydia Buchal, Simonne Chapdelaine, Olivia Hudson and Marion Delais and Mrs. Williamson.

THE NEWEST REMEDY FOR Backache, Rheumatism and Dropsy

Kidney, Bladder and Urid Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and loins, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. This is the time to try "Anuric."

During digestion uric acid is absorbed into the system from meat, bacon, and even from some vegetables. The poor kidneys get tired and backache begins. This is a good time to take "Anuric." The new discovery of Dr. Pierce for kidney trouble and Backache. Neglected kidney troubles are responsible for many deaths, and insurance Company examining doctors always test the water of an applicant before a policy will be issued. Have you ever set aside a bottle of water for twenty-four hours? A heavy sediment or settling sometimes indicates kidney trouble. The true nature and character of diseases, especially those of the kidneys and urinary organs, can often be determined by a careful chemical analysis and microscopic examination—this is done by expert chemists of the Medical Staff of the Invalids' Hotel. If you wish to know your condition send a sample of your water to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and describe your symptoms. It will be examined without any expense to you, and Doctor Pierce or his Staff of Assisting Physicians will inform you truthfully.—Adv.

MEMORIAL TO C. F. ADAMS

SENATOR LONG EULOGIZES THE FAMOUS BOSTONIAN—LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SERVICES

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—More than 600 people jammed the First church, corner of Berkeley and Marlboro streets, yesterday afternoon to pay tribute to the memory of the late Charles Francis Adams at a memorial meeting arranged by the Massachusetts Historical society, of which Mr. Adams was for years president.

In the throng of friends of the illustrious Bostonian were people from all walks and activities of life, some of the most prominent of whom were Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard; Lieut. Gov. Grafton Cushing; Prof. Chas. H. Haskins of Harvard; Mrs. John L. Gardner, Major Henry Lee Higginson, Counselor Chas. H. Wright, President Morris Gray of the Art Museum, Col. Arnold A. Rand, President Grenville H. Norcross of the Bostonian society, Bishop William Lawrence, Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham and Chief Justice Alken of the superior court.

The services were very simple, consisting of an organ prelude, an invocation by Rev. George A. Gordon, two hymns by the church choir, an eloquent eulogy by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and a benediction by Rev. Chas. E. Park, with the sounding of bells as a close.

In the sanctuary stood flags of state and nation and banners significant of the deceased's service in the war and his membership in the Loyal Legion and of the Massachusetts Historical society attended.

The service was held in this church because of the historical connections of the Adams family with it. In the church are tablets dedicated to the memory of his father, Charles F. Adams; his grandfather, President John Quincy Adams, and his maternal grandfather, John Cotton, to the latter of which he was a contributor. All of these attended this church and Mr. Adams was baptized there. Each of the tablets bore a wreath of laurel yesterday.

Countess Magri, better known as Mrs. Tom Thumb, is now 74 years of age.

COUGHS THAT ARE STOPPED!

CHICAGO HAS REAL WAR ON ITS HANDS WHEN ITS POLICE INVADE "STREETERVILLE"

STREETER AND VAN WHICH HE MADE HIS COURTHOUSE

"Streeterville," which although lying within a stone's throw of the fashionable Lake Shore drive, in Chicago, and between it and Lake Michigan, has long maintained its independence of all laws save those of the United States, came back to life to compete with the war news with a real battle of its own. The fact that Chicago—obeying the law of Illinois—has been declared "dry territory" on Sundays was the cause. The "Deestriet of Lake Michigan," as its ruler, Captain George Wellington Streeter, calls it, was invaded by armed forces, and he was wounded. Bullet holes, blood and wreckage were left in the wake of the brisk battle. Two were wounded, sixteen prisoners were taken, munitions were captured, liquid provender to the amount of 15,000 bottles of beer was confiscated and the territorial archives, containing the sacred "dokuments" of state became war booty. Captain Streeter was on a small schooner wrecked on the sands twenty-nine years ago. He squatted on the land the lake created after his vessel made a barrier. He claims the land is outside the boundary of the city and state and has some court decisions in his favor. The land is now worth millions.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

MEETING OF NO. MIDDLESEX COUNTY DISTRICT FEDERATION OF CATHOLIC SOCIETIES

A largely attended meeting of the North Middlesex district of the American Federation of Catholic Societies was held in the Knights of Columbus rooms last evening. The meeting was called to order by Charles Daly of Medford, who has worked untiringly for the success of the Federation. He has given considerable time and energy to the work, and that his efforts are appreciated was indicated at the close of the meeting last evening, when he was extended a rising vote of thanks. The district includes all cities and towns in Middlesex county north of Woburn, and at last night's meeting 75 delegates were present. The new constitution was unanimously adopted and the nominating committee, Patrick J. McGinn, chairman, brought in a list of officers. They were elected as follows: President, Thomas J. Fitzgerald, St. Margaret's parish; first vice president, Narcisse Gadois, St. Louis parish; second vice president, Hugh E. Kierman, St. Mary's parish; Collinsville, third vice president, Miss Catherine Gaffney, St. Michael's parish; fourth vice president, Charles McCarthy, St. Mary's parish; Ayer, press secretary, Miss Mary E. Wood, Sacred Heart parish; recording secretary, Miss Margaret McCluskey, St. Michael's parish; financial secretary, Timothy Rohan, St. Patrick's parish; treasurer, J. Frank Connor, St. John's parish; No. Chelmsford, marshal, George W. Tilden, St. Columba's parish; chaplain, Rev. Francis J. Mullin, St. Michael's parish; auditors, Michael Monahan, St. Peter's parish; Charles McCarthy, St. Michael's parish; Joseph Preston, Immaculate Conception parish.

EXONERATION EXPECTED

Cleveland Mayor Gives Hearing to Inspector Accused of Bribery—Decision Reserved

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Exoneration of Louis Loebel, accused of using his office as city immigration inspector to trap Albert Henzle, leader of Theodore Kander's 2000 striking cabinetmakers into a bribery conspiracy to end the strike was indicated yesterday at a public hearing in the mayor's office. Mayor Baker, acting as judge in Henzle's charge against Loebel, reserved his decision. During the hearing a demonstration was made in the street outside the city hall by 2000 strikers. Efforts to connect Henzle with the Austro-Hungarian government failed yesterday. Rumors that he was agent of the government proved untrue.

TWO PARTY COUNTRY

MYRON T. HERRICK SAYS THERE IS NO ROOM FOR THIRD PARTY HERE

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Causes that led to a split within the ranks of the republican party have, in large part, vanished and the forces are to be reunited, Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France, told members of the Hamilton club in an address today. The republican party has become progressive, Mr. Herrick said, and through the willingness of each party to go half way in effecting a compromise, many progressives have returned to their allegiance. "This is a two party country," he said. "It has never had and I presume never will have those multiple divisions by which the citizenship of some other nations are split. Between the two wings of our party, there is no difference as to the route or direction, but only as to the speed limit."

"There is no advantage in a three-sided contest which opens the way for tricks and trades. Any man can make his influence felt in any party but he cannot translate it into an active force for good laws and good government unless that party is powerful enough to put its policies into effect. "Republicans and progressives have been patriotically inspired to forget the past and join their energies for the better service of their country."

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Lowell Chapter, Telephone society of New England held a very lively and interesting meeting and entertainment Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, at which visitors were present from Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill and other points. Remarks were made by President Thomas B. Delaney and Joseph Hammond, both of this city. After the transaction of business a delightful minstrel program was furnished by the South Ends, with James J. Donnelly as interlocutor.

Routine Sessions

Routine sessions were held last night by Leather Workers' union, Street Railway Men's union, local 551 and the Building Laborers' union, in their respective headquarters.

Health Dept. Transfers

The third anniversary of the Health Department Transfers' union was observed last evening by a banquet at which Mayor Murphy was the principal speaker.

Carpenters' Union

Carpenters' union, local 1510 held their regular weekly meeting last night in the union quarters in the Runkel building with a large attendance.

Ring Spinners and Others

The Ring Spinner Carders' association met last evening in Trades & Labor hall and transacted routine business. The Engineers' union met at 35 Central street and the Pavers and Ramblers' union held their usual monthly meeting at 32 Middle street.

Miner's, Asso., Fri. night.

HIS FOOT WAS INJURED

MATTHEW GARRIGAN DIDN'T RECEIVE VERY GOOD TREATMENT AT THE POLICE STATION

Matthew J. Garrigan, who was arrested last night for drunkenness, was in the dock in the local police court this forenoon suffering from an injury to his right foot, caused by stepping on a nail while under the influence of liquor. Garrigan had remained in a cell with the injury all night, it is understood, and this forenoon it became so painful that he took off his shoe and stocking and hopped out on one foot when his name was called. It was stated to the court that no medical attendance had been summoned for the man when he was locked up and His Honor ordered that City Physician Tighe be called immediately. Garrigan, who is a parole man from the state farm, had his case continued until tomorrow.

There were two other state farm parole men in court and both cases were continued until an officer from that institution arrives to return with them. They registered as Edward J. Halloran and John Fleming.

Calyxte J. Blacut pleaded guilty to two complaints charging non-support of his wife and minor children. Mrs. Blacut said that her husband had been very delinquent in turning over his money to her for some time and as a result she and her children had to go without proper food and clothing. He was committed to the house of correction for four months. Three first offenders were released.

ROBBED OF $16,000

BUENOS AIRES BRANCH OF NEW YORK BANK LOOTED—OFFICIALS NOTIFIED

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Officers of the National City bank resolved a cable message from the Buenos Aires branch of the bank today stating that the latter had been robbed of $16,000—not $10,000—as stated in press despatches last night. The bank's message did not give any indication as to the manner in which the money had been stolen, but W. A. Simons, vice president of the National City bank, said notice had been received from Buenos Aires yesterday that a shortage in the funds of the branch bank had been discovered.

ST. COLUMBA'S PARISH

A delightful musical and whist party was conducted last evening in the parish hall, Marmoth road, by the members of the Tabernacle society of St. Columba's parish. It was one of the happiest gatherings seen at the hall this year.

The well arranged musical program proved very enjoyable and the talent who contributed to it were given well merited applause. Among the musical numbers of the evening were the following: Song, Fred Cummings; violin solo, Stephen Callahan; song, Miss Teresa Sullivan, and reading, Miss Ruth Whelton. Joseph McAvinue was the accompanist of the evening.

Following the musical treat whist was played and suitable prizes were awarded. The committee in charge was as follows: Chairman, Miss Rose Hanlon; Marie R. Sullivan, Lillian Brown, Catherine Whelan, Laura and Joannette Cogger, Berone, Dunden, Jennie Dunfee and Madeline Marley.

Rest time, Asso., Fri. eve.

CHELMSFORD STREET HOSPITAL

The inmates of the Chelmsford Street hospital were treated to a very enjoyable musical program last night by the members of the Palmer minstrels. The affair was held in the chapel of the institution with practically every inmate in attendance. Thomas Dowd was the accompanist of the evening and William Way the musical director. Much credit for the success of the event is due Superintendent and Mrs. Martin P. Conley, who had the arrangements in charge.

MISTAKEN FOR A DEER

ALDEN QUINBY KILLED WHILE HUNTING—NARROWLY ESCAPED A YEAR AGO

RUMFORD, Me. Nov. 18.—Alden Quinby was accidentally killed yesterday while hunting with a party of seven Rumford and Mexico men on Deer Mountain in the Capeport region of Bangor lakes. According to the first reports which reached here today he was mistaken for a deer by Claude Clark, one of his companions. Quinby was about 28 and a paper maker by trade. A year ago he narrowly escaped death when his father was killed in an automobile accident.

ENCOUNTERED HURRICANE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The schooner Van Lear Black, which left Buenos Aires, July 3, with a cargo of quabro wood for Stamford, Conn., arrived here today. The schooner encountered a hurricane about Sept. 1, and lost all sails and jibboom and put into St. Thomas where she was held thirty-three days awaiting new sails from Philadelphia.

Among the crew were two officers from a Hamburg-America line steamer interned at St. Thomas. They were tired of being idle, they said, and shipped on the schooner for New York.

The "Marcella" Skirt-Drawer and Combination is the most practical of all undergarments made. They take the place of an open drawer, closed drawers and a short skirt. The materials used are the finest. The patterns of laces and embroideries are carefully selected and the workmanship is faultless.

This garment was designed by a woman and embodies all the convenience and comfort of modern demands. It fits smoothly over the hips—buttons in front and when properly adjusted has the appearance of a short skirt. The wide skirt in vogue this season makes the "Marcella" the ideal garment.

The "Marcella" is manufactured under the most clean and healthful conditions possible, and is endorsed by the National Consumers League.

Our assortment of the "Marcella" is so extensive that our beautiful window display is only a part of our line. We will gladly show you all the fine, dainty garments at popular prices. Many ladies are already selecting Christmas Gifts from this line. When prettily boxed there is nothing more charming to give or receive.

NASHUA STRIKE MURDOCK SAILS, CONFIDENT IN FUTURE OF PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Fear of Violence When the Mills Open on Monday

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 18.—Fears here generally expressed last night that violence may be expected when the textile mills are reopened next Monday morning. The strike leaders have counseled peace and lawful behavior from the first, and will do everything they can to prevent illegal interference with persons going or returning from work.

They say they can not guarantee, however, to control the 1800 union members and their sympathizers. That the mill managers are still fearful of intimidation is shown by the strong guards which have been provided.

The militia who have been in the mills for six weeks will protect the mill property and adjacent streets, and the 100 reserves recently equipped at an expense of $2000 by the police commission will patrol streets leading from the mills to the homes of operatives who wish to go in.

The action of the agents making the day's closing at 4 p. m. is regarded as a protective measure to enable such employees as go in to reach their homes before dark on returning.

FOR AMERICAN REGISTRY

APPLICATION FOR FORMER GERMAN FREIGHTER, SUNK IN THE EARLY DAYS OF WAR, FILED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Application for American registry for the former German freighter Walkure, sunk in the harbor of Papeete, Tahiti, by German cruisers in the bombardment of the town in the early days of the war has been made here. It was announced today by John A. Hooper, one of a group of San Francisco business men who bought the submerged derelict.

They bought the vessel two months ago and sent a wrecking crew to raise it and bring it to this port. The vessel, according to last reports, lay in 45 feet of water and was not seriously damaged, only one shell having penetrated the hull.

SOLD AT AUCTION

Birthplace of Walt Whitman, the Poet, Went for $15,000—To be Divided Into Building Lots

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The birthplace and former home of Walt Whitman, the poet at Huntington, L. I., where he absorbed the inspiration for "Leaves of Grass" and other famous poems, was sold at auction yesterday for $15,000 under foreclosure proceedings to satisfy a note given by the owner, a farmer. It was purchased by a real estate dealer. It is reported that the 92-acre farm will be divided into building lots.

VICTOR MURDOCK, WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Before sailing for Europe Victor Murdock, chairman of the national committee of the progressive party, announced that the progressives will present a national ticket in the 1916 presidential campaign, saying, "The progressive party has every reason to plunge into the 1916 campaign with vim, vigor and a determination to win." Mr. Murdock asserts that the democratic program for congress will have that party "churning on the rocks within sixty days." He pictures Bryan and Kitchin as leaders in a mutiny in the democratic crew. As for the republican party, Mr. Murdock sees Mr. Taft as the "national blunderbuss" eliminated from the presidential race by an Ohio conspiracy, in which Herrick and Willis are co-victims with Taft, and Burton the state's favorite son. "After discovering," says Mr. Murdock, "that Mr. Root had been defeated by 500,000 votes in his own state on his own constitution, Mr. Taft has naturally announced that Root is the logical candidate of the republican party."

AGAINST HER SISTER

SISTER OF MRS. BURNS TESTIFIES THAT LATTER WAS JEALOUS OF HER HUSBAND

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 18.—Testimony that Mrs. Mary A. Burns was jealous of her husband, Frank A. Burns, was given at yesterday's session of her trial on the charge of murdering him. The witness, Mrs. Elvira de Merritt of Nottingham, a sister of the defendant, said that Mr. and Mrs. Burns lived at her home for a time, but that she was compelled to ask them to go elsewhere on account of her sister's jealousy and profane language to Mr. Burns.

On the day before Burns' death, Mrs. de Merritt testified, her sister told her that she had tried to reach Burns four times on the telephone to make an appointment to see him at a hotel in the town that night.

"I want to be with him one night more," Mrs. Burns said, according to her sister's testimony.

The defendant broke down and sobbed during the cross-examination of Mrs. de Merritt, when the latter testified that she had made no effort to see her sister since she had been in jail. Dr. Charles H. Dolloff, an assistant at the state hospital, where Mrs. Burns was under observation, gave it as his opinion that she was sane. He testified that when she appeared before a conference of physicians, she told them that she bought the poison, which killed her husband with the intention of committing suicide; that she put it in a bottle of gin, which was in a hand bag at the foot of her bed; and that her husband got up in the night and without her knowledge, drank from the bottle.

FLED AT FULL SPEED

AUSTRIA CLAIMS ANCONA TRIED TO ESCAPE AFTER WARNING SHOT WAS FIRED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The United States probably will make no diplomatic inquiry of Austria-Hungary as to its attitude toward the conduct of submarine warfare as a result of the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona pending the receipt of detailed information concerning the attack from the foreign office at Vienna through Ambassador Pennington.

Sufficient information for an inquiry state department officials believe, however, is furnished by the Austrian foreign office statement concerning the tragedy which was cabled to the department yesterday by Ambassador Pennington.

This communication is textually the same as the Austrian admiral's statement already received by Secretary Lansing, and apparently was presented to the ambassador by the foreign office before he received the department's cablegram detailing him to obtain specific and detailed information.

The statement says that the Ancona fled at full speed when a warning shot was fired across her bow and denies the Italian government's charges that she was fired at by the steamer after she came to a stop or that her lifeboats were shelled.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Have you seen "Blue Feathers," this week's play by the Emerson players at the Opera House? If not, get a pair of tickets for one of the remaining performances and witness it, or you'll miss one of the best plays which has ever been presented in Lowell.

In fact Eugene Walter never wrote a better drama, and he's responsible for "Blue Feathers," and numerous other successes. It's being capably presented. In fact it is a veritable triumph for Ann O'Day, Homer Barton, Frank Wright and Joe Crehan, a quartet who are quite equal to bear the brunt of a play of the "Blue Feathers" calibre. And still another feature, and by far not the least pleasing are the stage settings and the gowns worn by Miss O'Day.

And later to be sure are always products of the dressmaker's art, but those worn in this particular play are worthy of special commendation. A word to the ladies is sufficient. The interest in the opening speech and as the action goes along, instead of remaining stationary, it leaps, it grips one harder every moment, never for once letting up until the final curtain. Surely not many plays one can say that about, but it's absolutely true of the current week's offering by this popular company. Each of the many great scenes is brought to a fitting climax with just the right amount of manliness which are all too lacking in some of our so-called present day successes. Every one of the really remarkable speeches running throughout the four acts contains just the right degree of "manly," so that after one has witnessed it, the fact that he or she has spent an enjoyable afternoon or evening looking at something truly worth while, is a natural result.

Seats for all remaining performances are now on sale at the box office and are selling rapidly. Secure yours now by phoning 261. There are still a few good ones to be had.

The coming week the management has selected a play of especially meritorious quality as a Thanksgiving offering. It is "The Travelling Salesman." Most every one has heard of it. Every one will want to see it. Tickets are now on sale for all performances including those for matinee and evening.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

This is the opening day of a double Paramount bill at the Merrimack Square theatre at which two notable stars will appear one of whom, Geraldine Farrar, was seen several weeks ago in "Carmen." Since so many were turned away disappointed when Miss Farrar appeared here before the management deemed it wise to give those who were unable to see her a second opportunity to witness with delight this accomplished actress in her brilliant impersonation of Carmen, in the elaborate five act Paramount screen adaptation of the famous opera to the fame of which this same celebrity has added much when she appeared in its role in opera. The management repeats this picture. Hereafter is that "Carmen" was again secured after much untiring effort and will be shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday.

The version of "Carmen" used in this Paramount picture is founded on the story by Prosper Merimee, and shows Carmen as a half-wild, fascinating creature—a gypsy by birth—and living with a band of smugglers in the mountains near the coast of Spain. The smugglers are foiled in their attempt to get their illegal goods into the little town where Jose, an officer in the regiment stationed there, Carmen is sent by Pantoja, the leader of the smuggling.

gangs and the local tavern keeper, to fascinate Don Jose and make him forget his duties and give the smugglers an opportunity to bring their goods into the city.

Carmen secures work in a tobacco factory near the city wall, to account for her presence near Don Jose, and it is also announced that she will dance at the tavern in the evenings. The night Carmen danced in the tavern, she is the center of attraction. She is wooed unsuccessfully by Morales, a brother officer of Don Jose's, and also by Escamillo—a young Toreador on his way to Seville to enter the bull ring there. Escamillo has loved Carmen for a long time, but she, while attracted to him, has clung to her liberty. Escamillo asks Carmen to accompany him to Seville, and she is tempted to listen to him, but Pastia reminds her that her beauty is at present for Don Jose and she must carry through their plans. Don Jose, for Carmen's wild, sensuous dance, loses his heart to her; and that night when she passes by the breach in the wall where he is on guard, he follows her off while the smugglers enter the city. Miss Farrar tells the rest of the story in a much more interesting manner than any words could tell.

In addition to Miss Farrar's appearance in "Carmen" which alone is a show in itself, the program for today, Friday and Saturday, the noted actor, Charles Cherry will appear in the leading role of the five-act Paramount dramatization of the famous drama, "The Humpty and the Humming Bird." Everyone would see this play and this star. The performances for these next three days will conclude with a screaming comedy. Without a doubt this is one of the biggest shows Lowell has ever seen at one time for the money.

D. F. KETH'S THEATRE
Laugh with Louis A. Simon at the D. F. Keth theatre, this week, although he will be wholly exact, Louis doesn't laugh much, except at the wrong time. His vehicle, "The New Coachman," gives him the part of a young collegian who is to meet the girl he is to marry. His hotel room is let to a young couple, the woman of which believes the collegian to be the new coachman. Simon vainly endeavors to please the woman, and the woman wishes only to be pleased to the extent of having Simon look after the house. Finally she does compromise by letting him hang pictures on the walls of the room. Not until after Simon has maneuvered the ladder dangerously close to the heads of the other actors, and has taken some very fast falls does he waken to the true situation. It's a humbling farce, and one which puts everything in the best of spirits. Conlin, Steele & Parks in their mixture of comedy, music and dancing are splendid entertainers, who have an endless list of new things to offer. The six Harvard are instrumentalists and singers, whose act is exceedingly clever, and in the best of charming melodies. David Kinder, the whistling virtuoso, is one of the few performers in his line of prime importance. Kinder is most satisfying. Miss Bussie's toy trailers carry on a little play and Irwin & Herzog are singing comedians who are favorites. The Adrie Brothers are novelty gymnasts. Yesterday afternoon James Beecher of S. Lagrange court held the lucky seat check, and was given a set of dinner dishes. Good seats for all performances may be obtained in advance at the box office.

JEWEL THEATRE

A realistic romance of the west in the theme of "The Yankee From the West," the four-act Mutual Masterpiece to be shown as a special attraction at the Jewel theatre Friday and Saturday. This is a different sort of play, in which thrills and adventures abound. The acting is superb, such as seen in Mutuals only. These nationally advertised Masterpieces are the result of a carefully thought-out plan for better and bigger feature productions, and they have admirably succeeded in producing films of a high standard attained only by them. All participants are well-known, reliable film actors, those who have made good and naturally the acting is better than in the average "feature." Many other films will complete the Friday and Saturday show.

OWL THEATRE

"The Sins of the Mothers," a vivid feature film telling us story of a young girl's passionate love for a gambler which she has inherited from her mother and the starring of the favorite of the screen, Anita Stewart and Earle Williams, will be the attraction at the Owl theatre today. Many other excellent photo plays will also be presented.

She'll go to Aeso, Fri. night.

THE LOWELL SPIRIT

No Lowell man can go to the Casino this week and come away feeling that his city is not alive. Whether for the first or the twenty-first time he will have been convinced that if Lowell is given a chance it will prosper and progress until it heads the list of thriving Massachusetts cities. He will have been lifted out of the pessimistic ranks and taught that all Lowell needs is the proper direction of a constructive and courageous public spirit which is not afraid to plan for the future or too timid to demand the reforms that are necessary for adequate civic expansion.

On the opening evening of the fine show almost five thousand residents attended. Among them were leaders in our manufacturing, industrial, financial and mercantile interests. These must have learned that Lowell is one of the world's greatest workshops, and they were petty indeed if they were not lifted out of the stagnant circle of narrow selfishness. As business men, they must have realized the enormous value of an exhibit which drew the leaders of Lowell together for the common good. They must have seen that what will improve the city and give it prestige will ultimately benefit every individual and firm in the city, for the prosperity of a city is merely the collective prosperity of its people, and no progressive city can have a preponderant class of discontented residents, merchants and manufacturers. Lowell's leading men have been shown that under the proper guidance Lowell has a business spirit—and it is for them to so foster that spirit that minor differences of opinion may be brushed aside and that all influential men may work for something worthy of the city's best efforts.

Still more remarkable has been the record since Monday. On Tuesday more than 21,000 persons, most of them adults, passed through the aisles of the Casino filled with admiration for what they saw. Many of them were familiar with the names of the principal exhibitors, but few had ever supposed that Lowell is really of such vast industrial importance in a national sense. Though public patronage had been anticipated, those who planned the show had no idea that the response would be so immediate and so enthusiastic. They saw in the most convincing manner possible that the rank and file of Lowell people also have a public spirit, which, though possibly undeveloped as yet, can do wonders when properly aroused.

This spirit among business leaders and the masses of our citizenship is the greatest asset to any community, and all who have any large influence cannot do better than to foster it. The accusation has been frequently made that Lowell people are ashamed of their city, and instances have been related of Lowell men who, when they register in distant or foreign cities give their home residence as Boston. Any Lowell man who would do this after a visit to the Casino this week is as foolish as he is disloyal. Lowell is really a city of great possibilities, and with the proper conduct of its public affairs it need have no superiors and few equals among cities of its class.

After the creation of such a valuable public sentiment, the time is ripe for the agitation of some genuine reforms. We have come face to face with the real things; let us brush aside the shams and give the city a chance. Suppose any of the great industries that made such a fine showing in the Casino booths had been governed as Lowell has been governed—or misgoverned—what would have been the result? Ruin or disorganization. Private business succeeds because those in charge look for capable men who are sincere in their efforts to advance the interests of their employers and the city, who are able, honest and efficient. Lowell will succeed also if it elects capable, honest and efficient men to office, with the proper sense of civic proportion will do the thing that is best for the future of the city and which will honestly depend on popular support to get through the necessary improvements. We have seen that Lowell has a public spirit; let us make use of it for the good of the city and all who call it home.

ENGLAND'S SKELETONS

England, France, Russia and Germany have had their share of internal dissensions during the conduct of the war but none of them has suffered as great an extent as England, where party bickering and personal animosities have caused dangerous waves of feeling to counteract the great surge of national determination. It is necessary to success. The latest important illustration of this state of mind is the speech of Winston Churchill before resigning his cabinet seat, and it was the view of most of the office to take up the leadership of his speech that there is a great deal of animosity. With sensational bravado for social service and the applying of the answers the charges that have modern scientific methods in Massachusetts made against him by press and clergies. It seems to be the view of public and tried to lay the blame on leading medical and sociological authorities. At the time, Kitchener was on his way to the Balkans on a most serious mission, and could not well reply—even if he would, which is improbable—and Admiral Fisher did not deign to prolong the pernicious and unnecessary debate. Churchill may have been gratified by the cheers he is said to have received in parliament, and by the popularity which his action may win, but he has hurt his country instead of helping it. Had he waited more patiently he might have been vindicated in due time if guiltless, but he should have considered the need for perfect national unity during the present crisis. From time to time leaders in England's public life get up and call for unanimous support of the government, but in parliament and out many influential men are doing their best—consciously or otherwise—to impair national unity. No nation can afford to wash its dirty linen in public at a time when a great war demands the sinking of personal and political feuds for the sake of the national ideal. This war has shown England the source of much internal weakness and the empire will ultimately be the better for the revelation. The leaders in parliament should not expect that the British army could engage in such a frightful war as the present without meeting reverses. The other countries in such cases gird up their loins and fight on. England should not allow the dissident elements to shape her policy or thwart her purpose in a situation in which her very life and future destinies are involved. Democratic government has its drawbacks in war times.

CRITICS OF PRESIDENT

President Wilson will be admired and commended for his manly stand with regard to one of his critics, especially as the critic in question had gone beyond the limits of good taste and sound judgment. George Burdett, assistant postmaster of a Chicago suburb, had been removed from office by his superior for derogatory remarks on the betrothal of President Wilson to Mrs. Galt and in consequence the episode was given undue publicity. As soon as President Wilson became aware of the facts, he ordered the reinstatement of the government official, thus proving that he is not so thin skinned as to resent personal criticism. Throughout his administration the president has shown more than ordinary toleration towards those who, for one reason or another, have questioned his political or private conduct, and for this he will be admired and respected by those who are for fair play. The incident will remind the country of the necessity for being a little more respectful towards its high officials, and there is certainly room for improvement in this particular. America stands for a brand of ridicule and misrepresentation that would not be permitted in any other land, and while the liberty of press and freedom of public discussion are admirable, it is to be feared that many do not distinguish carefully between liberty and license.

FLEEING CHAUFFEURS

From time to time the public has been shocked by press reports of auto accidents in which the drivers responsible have flown from the scene leaving their victim or victims dead or seriously injured. Such instances have called forth strong condemnation, and wishes have been expressed for a law that would treat such cowardly flight as a serious offense. Representative Sawyer of Ware has just filed a bill at the state house which would hold the driver responsible and which in some instances would provide for the punishment of all who might be in the car at the time, provided their guilt could be established. A driver who failed to stop after an accident might be fined from $100 to $1000, or subject to imprisonment from three months to three years, or both. If the victim were killed, the driver who would flee is liable to imprisonment from 10 to 20 years. These penalties will not seem harsh to those who remember some instances of criminal cowardice on the part of guilty drivers for the past few years. Laws cannot automatically guarantee highway safety, but if such office with the proper sense of civic proportion will do the thing that is best for the future of the city and which will honestly depend on popular support to get through the necessary improvements. We have seen that Lowell has a public spirit; let us make use of it for the good of the city and all who call it home.

MENTAL DEFECTIVES

Experts in mental diseases come out from time to time with statements that are most disquieting, but they hint at conditions that the state cannot well overlook. It is said for instance that the state institutions cannot cope with the number of feeble-minded and insane sent there annually, and it is said furthermore that there are thousands of criminals, rogues of feeling to counteract the great surge of national determination. It is necessary to success. The latest important illustration of this state of mind is the speech of Winston Churchill before resigning his cabinet seat, and it was the view of most of the office to take up the leadership of his speech that there is a great deal of animosity. With sensational bravado for social service and the applying of the answers the charges that have modern scientific methods in Massachusetts made against him by press and clergies. It seems to be the view of public and tried to lay the blame on leading medical and sociological authorities. At the time, Kitchener was on his way to the Balkans on a most serious mission, and could not well reply—even if he would, which is improbable—and Admiral Fisher did not deign to prolong the pernicious and unnecessary debate. Churchill may thorities that unless more time and attention are given to this timely subject, and more money expended, the state will have an enormous difficulty in preventing the spread of feeble-mindedness in a short time.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for the assessors in making their rounds next year to take Mayor Murphy along with them to see if they cannot push up the market value of machinery of all kinds and also to get after taxing the machinery and stock of merchants and manufacturers everywhere if they cannot also work in a little scheme of double taxation regardless of the law?

The lawyers always say that it is a sure indication that an attorney has a poor case when he depends entirely upon heaping abuses on everyone in sight. This rule it seems can be applied with equal truth to candidates on the stump who evade the main issues and devote their time to attacks on private citizens.

SAVE YOUR HAIR!
25 CENT BOTTLE
STOPS DANDRUFF
Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.
Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its strength and its very life, eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die. Then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff tonight—now—anytime—will really save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store or the counter, and after the first application your hair will take on a new life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and shiny and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over your scalp.

Dandruff is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It gets right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. Asking Fool Questions

We go to our tailor who has to have business in order to live and say: "I want something that will hold its color and shape."
"I have it."
"I want something that won't bag at the knees."
"I have it."
"I want something that won't show dirt or gather dust."

Any man measures us for a suit that will fade a little, stretch a lot at the coat-pockets, bag at the knees a great deal, gather all the dust that comes its way.

Because the tailor is a liar?

Nuh, because we are a fool to ask for something common sense ought to tell us doesn't exist.

How to Miss Him

In order to miss a train, all one has to do is to ask a hotel clerk and not look up the time-card or telephone the depot.

This method will get you to the station a very few minutes after the train has been.

When you find the train has gone try to act as if you didn't care.

The people who linger about the depot will guess your guilty secret with the accuracy of a busy Bertha.

And you hate them for it.

What business had they hanging around a station, anyway, after the train has gone?

They did it just on the off chance of enjoying some fool's discomfiture.

Why don't they believe that you had rushed into the station, bearing two suit-cases, just to weigh yourself on the ticket agent and the baggage man, of whom you finally bring yourself to ask some more questions after having scolded them for your mistake, answer you with a gentle patience which is the most insulting thing they could use on you.

First of all, they reluctantly admitting to yourself that you were wrong, and that nobody on earth was to blame except your fool self, you gather up your stuff, make what arrangements you can to retrieve your bone-head-play, and disappear.

And never tell anybody the real truth about it afterward.

Not "Dry" Wit

The vexed question of alcohol accounts for plenty of wit.

There is Sir Edward Carson's reply in an English court to a judge who pointed out to him the discrepancy between his club and the club of his wit.

"That is so, my lord," said Sir Edward; "yet another case of difference between bench and bar."

Another good retort came from Mr. Powden, who was once taking coffee in his club during a spell of his wit.

THE BIBLE INSTITUTE

FOUR DAYS' SESSION AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH CLOSED LAST EVENING

The Lowell Bible Institute, which opened in the First Baptist church on Sunday, closed last evening. There was a closing address by Rev. E. E. Peterson, Sunday school secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Sunday School association, on "The End of the Matter."

The total registration for the four days of the institute was 498, from seven Lowell churches and three surrounding towns. According to their total enrollment, the percentage of registration present during the institute was as follows: First Baptist, 18 per cent; Calvary Baptist, 17 per cent; Fifth Street Baptist, 15 per cent; Immanuel Baptist, 13 per cent; Palgrove Baptist, 11 per cent; Chelmsford Street Baptist, 10 per cent; Worthen Street Baptist, 32.5 per cent; North Billerica Baptist, 6 per cent; and First Baptist of Chelmsford Centre, 31.5 per cent.

The numbers from the churches were as follows: First Baptist, 18 per cent; Calvary Baptist, 17 per cent; Fifth Street Baptist, 15 per cent; Immanuel Baptist, 13 per cent; Palgrove Baptist, 11 per cent; Chelmsford Street Baptist, 10 per cent; Worthen Street Baptist, 32.5 per cent; North Billerica Baptist, 6 per cent; and First Baptist of Chelmsford Centre, 31.5 per cent.

During the afternoon the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. C. H. Ellis, while Mrs. Reed discussed the story-telling. Mr. Sly's subject was "Securing Attention and Co-operation." Miss Weeks discussed "Study With the Juniors," and Mr. Peterson discussed "The Class Session." The last subject of the afternoon was "Increasing the Membership," by Mr. Sly.

Miss Weeks, Mrs. Millett and Mr. Peterson spoke in the evening, the latter giving the closing address, which was devoted to the work of the teachers in the schools. He spoke of their devotion to the work in hand, of the spirit with which they approached it and the great necessity for proceeding with great care in the building of character.

The workers' library, given as a prize to the Sunday school receiving the largest of awards of certificates for note book work, was awarded to the school of the Worthen Street Baptist church. The Worthen Street church also had the largest per cent of enrollment in the institute.

VICTORY FOR ITALIANS

STRONG AUSTRIAN POSITION NORTHWEST OF GORIZIA CAPTURED

ROME, Nov. 17, via Paris, Nov. 18.—A victory for the Italian forces which are attempting to capture Gorizia was announced tonight by the war office. A strong Austrian position northwest of the city was captured. The statement follows:

"There is great activity on the part of the artillery on both sides all along the front. The enemy's artillery seeks not only to strike at our defenses but above all to destroy systematically the country conquered by us, even where there are no effective garrisons of our troops."

"Thus on Nov. 14, the enemy fired 12-inch shells into the villages of Locca and Beasella in Concel valley. Yesterday the enemy's batteries directed bombardments against the once flourishing towns of Motta and Lucinico, on the Isontina plain. These towns are now heaps of smoking ruins."

"Our infantry took by assault a strong entrenchment on the height northwest of Gorizia. In this position we found a heap of corpses and a large amount of war materials."

"On the Carso, in the Monte San Michele zone, during the night, Nov. 15-16 and on the following morning the enemy renewed his attacks on the positions recently conquered by us. He was repulsed repeatedly, leaving in our hands two machine guns and sixty prisoners, one of whom was an officer."

"Aeroplane of the enemy yesterday dropped bombs on Alla. There was no loss of life or damage to property."

SMITH IS TURNED DOWN

COUNCIL WILL NOT HAVE HIM ON MINIMUM WAGE BOARD—HEARING ON JUDGE O'BRIEN'S CHOICE

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—By a vote of 5 to 2, the executive council yesterday refused to confirm Gov. Walsh's nomination of ex-City Councilor Ernest E. Smith to the minimum wage commission. The appointment was opposed by a large number of manufacturers before the council last week. Councilors Wagsatt, Frothingham, Mulligan, Denney and Wright voted against confirmation. Lieut. Gov. Cushing and Councilor George Loring voted for. Councilor Ham did not vote; Councilor Parker was absent.

"The manufacturers have assumed the appointing power," declared Mr. Smith commenting upon the council's action. "The man they will have Mr. McCall appoint ought to give the minimum wage law a fair trial, for we have more important after the war. A flood of immigration seems sure to follow and with it the possibility of a higher Lawrence strike. This law might prevent such a strike. I hope the manufacturers, secure in their war profits, will not be short-sighted."

The council voted to give a public hearing next Wednesday on confirming Gov. Walsh's appointment of Judge Edward H. O'Brien of Marblehead to succeed David T. Dickinson of Cambridge on the industrial accident board.

AN AFTER-DINNER PILL

Most people eat too much. If you are a hearty eater help your digestion take care of the over-load by taking one Pinket, the little sugar-coated laxative granules, after a big dinner. Pinkets gently stimulate the stomach, prevent indigestion and many distressing results of over-indulgence at the table.

Pinkets, the new laxative, are greatly superior to old-fashioned medicines which over-stimulate the liver and, when their use is stopped, leave it more torpid than before. Pinkets do not upset the stomach or cause griping.

Pinkets should be in every household. Do not wait until you need to take them, but buy a bottle now. If your druggist cannot supply you send 25 cents to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a full-size bottle.

THE SHIP PURCHASE BILL

SECRETARIES MCADOO AND REFIELD CONSIDER TENTATIVE DRAFT OF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A tentative draft of the new government ship purchase bill, which will be urged by the administration at the coming session of congress, was considered yesterday at a conference at the treasury department. Secretary Redfield and Solicitor Thurman of the department of commerce went over the proposed measure with Secretary McAdoo.

The draft follows the lines suggested by Secretary McAdoo in a recent speech outlining the purposes of the administration as to naval auxiliaries and the upbuilding of the American merchant marine. Before the measure is put in final form to be presented to congress it will be laid before President Wilson. The plan described by Mr. McAdoo contemplated the expenditure of $50,000,000 by a government shipping board. Through the corporation organized by the board the latter would maintain shipping lines, operating or leasing them to private concerns.

Secretary McAdoo also suggested that the board be given authority to reform shipping rules and regulations, study shipping problems and make recommendations to congress looking toward establishment of a strong merchant marine.

NO QUININE IN THIS COLD CURE

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends colds and grippe in a few hours.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all grippe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

DEFECTIVE BABY DIES

Doctors and Nurses Watch as Infant Passes Away in Throes of Convulsions

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—The unnamed baby of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bollinger, doomed to death by Dr. H. J. Haiselden because it was a defective, died at 7.30 last evening in the German-American hospital. The baby died in convulsions. For a time before its death its body began to turn blue, due to the impurities which the defects of its body would not permit to be cast off in the natural way.

The storm of criticism of the physician and the hospital is bound to rise higher when the social leaders and the public hear of the outcome through the newspapers. And the doctor will have to face an exhausting examination before the county coroner and the city authorities.

City to Investigate

City authorities began an investigation of the conduct of Dr. Haiselden, who, with the consent of the parents, refused to perform an operation on the baby. Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson held a conference with Assistant Corporation Counsel Clifford Tonn and was advised not to issue a death certificate.

If the death certificate is refused, the matter will be placed in the hands of Coroner Hoffman and an inquest held. The question whether the child received proper care and attention at the hospital will be one of the points to be decided at the inquiry.

Mother Never Saw the Infant

Calmness, represented by a delegation of critical physicians and trained nurses, sat at the bedside of the child watching it die.

The baby's mother, who consented to its sacrifice, lies in a room near that in which the physicians were awaiting the end. She has never seen her child.

The theory of the racial uplift advanced by the surgeons was a topic of discussion in clerical, medical and women's club circles. The hospital telephones were swamped by praises and protests.

There was considerable divergence of opinion, the physicians being by no means a unit in the endorsement of their colleague, and the clergymen standing firmly for the ethics prohibiting the taking of a life.

"I expected to be criticized," said the surgeon, who showed signs of the nervous strain under which he has been laboring since he decided not to operate five days ago. "My stand is out of conformity with the notions of many people, but it is sincere. I have the strength of my convictions. I have received much censure already and probably will receive more, but my conscience is clear. It would have been a moral wrong, in my opinion, to allow the child to live."

Criticism City Officials

"It seems to me that a city which allows a black hand outrage a week, a thousand abortions a day and a deadly automobile accident nearly every round of the clock, is hardly in a position to criticize a man for holding that death is more desirable than life to a defective."

"There is no doubt that this child was mentally subnormal as well as physically deformed."

"The brain itself was only slightly subnormal, but the cranial nerves were absent or undeveloped. The symptoms pointed strongly to brain trouble. There was no ear on one side, and the ear on the other side was malformed. There was a deformity of the chest and a deformity of the nose. The neck was lacking. There was paralysis of the nerves of the right side of the face, blindness of one eye and malformation of its shoulders."

Cause of the Death

"The deformity which eventually caused death, however, was the closure of an intestinal tract. The condition could have been remedied, but my conscience wouldn't let me do it. This was a question of the sort which every physician must decide for himself, and I was doing what I believe to be right."

Four mothers, patients at the German-American hospital, agreed with Dr. Haiselden.

"If he grew up he would be a hopeless cripple, and he would suffer from fits," added the doctor.

"Would his mind be clear? Would his soul be normally alive?" he was asked.

"That I do not know, but the chances are against it."

The questioner cited the case of Roswald Smith of Chicago, a supposedly harmless defective who, after reaching the adult stage killed Hazel Weinstock, for which he was hanged.

Another visitor remarked that Fryder Dostoevsky, born a defective, who had epileptic fits, developed into a great novelist and one of the greatest psychologists in Europe.

Woman Kidnapped the Babe

An effort to kidnap the defective baby before it died was made yesterday by a woman who said she was a Mrs. Walsh. The woman had the baby for three hours before found in a room of the hospital and deprived of the infant. She said she had read in the papers of the plans made by Dr. Haiselden to let the baby die rather than perform an operation which would enable it to live.

"It is right to kill babies," Mrs. Walsh said. "I am opposed to human beings killing each other, and I will do everything I can to prevent the science decree from being carried out."

The baby was placed under a close guard of nurses after the discovery of Mrs. Walsh, who had left a bundle of bedclothes in the baby's crib to resemble the infant. She was not arrested. She would give no address, but was finally dressed.

Dr. Haiselden is a bachelor, but he has not let that interfere with a striking proof that he is a man of intensely humane sentiments. He has adopted two girl babies from the German-American hospital after they had been abandoned by their parents. One of the little girls is four years old and is very bright. The other is a mite of an infant born only a few months ago.

Of course the babies receive the best of care at the physician's home under the direction of nurses of the hospital. Dr. John Dill of Robertson, Chicago's commissioner of health, who directed the city and county inquiry, said the function of the doctor is primarily the saving of life and the relieving of pain. He said:

"I would like to make a quotation which would seem to fit the case: 'Ages long will tell a story old of triumphs wrought, unending of things once held as naught.'"

"Who can say if this life were saved what it might amount to? I do not know the full particulars of this case. It seems to me that the usual course would be to save the life and let the consequences take care of themselves. I know Dr. Haiselden is a courageous man with the strength of his convictions. Maybe he is right—but it seems that if the physician is to take the right of deciding which life he shall save and which not, it may open a dangerous field."

OPP. CITY HALL

Dr. Haiselden for his stand, yesterday said defectives were not necessarily a burden to society, and in many cases of persons living, as well as dead, they had been among the world's greatest men and women.

Clarence Darrow, the lawyer, known as a humanitarian, remarked:

"Chloroform used on children. Show them the same mercy that is shown beasts that are no longer fit to live."

Mrs. Anna Bollinger, the mother, remained steadfast in her belief that death was best for the little one. She has three healthy children, and the plight of the condemned one is believed to have been due to an attack of typhoid fever when the mother suffered recently.

TO VINDICATE SURGEON

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Complete vindication of Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, the surgeon who declined to operate on the defective Bollinger baby and thus saved its life, will be recommended to the coroner's jury which is to conduct an inquest today.

The recommendation for vindication will be made by Dr. H. G. W. Rheinhart, chief coroner's physician, who conducted a post mortem on the six day old infant an hour after its death in the German-American hospital last night. Coroner Hoffman had indicated that unless the post mortem proved the child a mental defective, Dr. Haiselden might be tried for criminal negligence.

"My examination shows that the probabilities are strong that the child would have been a paralytic all its life. My own opinion is that Dr. Haiselden was right in not allowing the baby to live."

Mrs. Anna Bollinger, the mother, who gave consent to let the infant die, was not told this morning of her child's death. The doctors said they would wait until she is stronger. She had never looked on the baby's face.

From every corner of the United States telegrams came to Dr. Haiselden today expressing the thoughts of physicians, social workers, prominent women and men on the case. The surgeon is a bachelor. He has two adopted daughters. One was abandoned by her mother at the hospital; the other is a New York orphan.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

CONGRESSMAN O'SHAUGHNESSY AND MAYOR CURLEY PRAISE BOSTON COUNCIL

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Congressman Geo. F. O'Shaughnessy of Providence paid his respects to the ideals of the Knights of Columbus at the banquet last night at the City club, in honor of the 29th anniversary of Mt. Vernon council 133, K. of C. of Dedham. He declared that the organization is instrumental in fostering a better understanding of loyalty, and that the religious principles taught through its influence did not in any way detract from a dutiful respect for the flag. Mayor Curley was one of the speakers at the banquet and spoke in glowing tribute of the work being accomplished by the various Boston councils. He told of the plans of a Knights of Columbus building in the Fenway, which district he referred to as the coming civic center of Boston and the universe, and hoped that the proposed building would be completed within six months.

IN BEHALF OF SCHWARTZ

APPEAL TO STATE DEPT. TO PRODUCE RELEASE OF AMERICAN CITIZEN HELD IN ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—An appeal was made to the state department yesterday, in behalf of Samuel Schwartz of New York, an American citizen, who is said to have been held in prison in England for more than four months with no charge against him other than that he "is held for deportation." Counsel for the man's wife, laid the case before the department and asked that some action be taken toward securing his immediate release. It was said later that the course of the government probably would be to ask the British foreign office to put the deportation order into effect as soon as practicable. According to the account given the department officials, Schwartz, who is also known as Simon Scarn and who is of Hungarian birth, was arrested in a London hotel about a year ago, charged with being an alien enemy who had failed to register properly.

TAKEN FROM JURY

The case of John Guy of Lawrence vs. the Boston & Maine railroad was taken from the jury in the superior court at Lawrence yesterday by Judge Hamilton, who ordered a verdict for the defense. Guy claimed that he sustained an injury to his back while employed at the repair shops in Billerica. Dr. Nell K. Forhan of North Billerica was one of the witnesses.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clear. All cosmetics clog the pores. In cool weather this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary micellized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of sear skin come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Micellized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is spread on slightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices. For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with fatty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: 1 or 2 ordered axolite, dissolved in 4 pint which hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results.

Auto Owners

Prepare Your Car For Winter

The approach of cold weather is a signal to automobile owners that cylinders and radiators are liable to freeze when the temperature falls below 32 degrees F.

Prominent automobile engineers recommend the use of denatured alcohol above all other substances to prevent freezing. It is manufactured and sold under the supervision of the United States government.

It is uniformly pure, besides being harmless, efficient and cheap. A quart to each gallon of water in the cooling system is sufficient to prevent freezing when the temperature reaches zero. By increasing the proportion of denatured alcohol the freezing temperature of the mixture is lowered, and it is possible by using equal parts of denatured alcohol and water to prevent freezing at as low as 35 degrees below zero.

Another advantage in the use of denatured alcohol is its value as a carbon remover and engine cleaner. The cylinders of the engine can be kept free from carbon and the valves and piston rings maintained in first-class condition by pouring a wineglassful of denatured alcohol at frequent intervals into each cylinder while the engine is hot, or the engine may be run on alcohol to accomplish the same result by injecting it into the intake of the carburettor while the motor is running fast. A squirt oil can is a convenient means of introducing the alcohol into the carburettor.

FACES LIFE IN PRISON SERBIANS RETREATING

BOSTON MEN IDENTIFIED BY VICTIM IN DETROIT—HELD THERE WITH FOUR OTHERS

DETROIT, Nov. 18.—If Gabrielle Rosenthal, alias R. Rosenquist, alias Harvey Rosenwald, alias Frank Rose, alias Willard Schmitt, alias George Rose, selen of a wealthy Boston family, who is under arrest in Detroit on the charge of highway robbery, while armed with a revolver, serves time for all the crimes he is alleged to have committed, he will never live to enjoy the fortune left him by his father who died a few years ago.

Detected by O'Grady and Wilson, who arrested Rosenthal on Oct. 25 with four other alleged highwaymen, have returned against Rosenthal by a Boston grand jury and the Boston police insist that the man be held for them, in case he escapes punishment here. If Rosenthal is convicted on any one of the jobs charged he will be subject to life imprisonment.

Rosenthal's father was a wealthy wool merchant in Boston and when he died the son became direct heir to all his property. The father left a will, however, providing that his son should not get the estate in full until he is 30 years old. He was to receive $20 a week in the meantime. He is now 26, he says.

Impatient for the full estate and inclining to luxuries he began a career as "Jim the Penman," say the Boston police. He frequented the best hotels in Boston and at these places is alleged to have passed the forged checks.

Rosenthal has been identified by R. P. Kretzinger as the man who held him up and robbed him of $50. The police say the gang of five hold up and robbed other persons during their Wild West career in Detroit.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

A busy meeting of Ladd and Whitney post, 155, G. A. R., was held last evening in the post headquarters on Central street at which officers were nominated for the ensuing year. The result was as follows: Commander, James H. Caverly; senior vice commander, Franklin S. Pevey; junior vice commander, A. L. Gilman; quartermaster, W. A. Arnold; officer of the day, George E. Bryant; J. Adams Bartlett, who was senior vice commander for several years, resigned his position.

KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

LEWISTON, Me., Nov. 18.—A man thought to have been George Jackson, 21, of Boston, who run over and killed by a freight train at Lewiston Junction last night. A note in his pocket and a conversation with a man near the station some time before the accident, were the only means of identification.

NURSE WAS CRIPPLED FROM RHEUMATISM OF JOINTS

FINGERS WERE DEFORMED—KNEES STIFF AND PAINFUL—GIVES CREDIT TO VAR-NE-SIS FOR RECOVERY

I feel that any remedy that will benefit sufferers from rheumatism of the joints should be given the support of every right thinking man and woman. So said Mrs. N. M. Nightingale of 22 Lafayette Ave., E. Weymouth, Mass., a well known nurse. She continued:

"I suffered from rheumatic arthritis and stiffness left me, my fingers returned to normal condition, and I can open and shut my hand without any trouble.

"I am recommending Var-ne-sis to all who suffer from rheumatism of the joints."

W. A. Varney says:

Var-ne-sis is not a cure-all recommended for every ill. I never pay for any testimonial. I receive letters from many people telling me they have been cured by Var-ne-sis, and asking me to pay for their testimony. I have replied that every testimonial published by me is genuine, and nothing but the truth, and it paid for could not be genuine or a true appreciation of the merit of Var-ne-sis.

I am always pleased to receive letters telling me of the benefits derived from Var-ne-sis, but remember I offer $1000 if my letters have been purchased or that they are other than genuine, so please do not ask for payment for helping some other sufferer from that dread disease, rheumatism.

I want to send you my Var-ne-sis Health News. Address W. A. Varney, Lynn, Mass.

Visit the Boston office, 140 Boylston street, where the collection of wheel chairs, crutches, canes, etc., is on exhibition. Consultation and advice free.

on and off for years. About two years ago the disease became very severe, gradually the joints became stiff and painful so that I had to remain in bed. My fingers were drawn toward the palms of my hands, the knuckles enlarged and it was impossible to straighten them. My shoulders were stiff and painful, as well as the muscles from my head to my shoulders. My knees gave me a great deal of trouble on account of stiffness and pain. It was impossible to go up or down stairs without great effort. After remaining quiet I could hardly move because of the stiffness. I had to use canes to get about.

NURSE NIGHTINGALE INDORSES VAR-NE-SIS

For five months I never left the house, and for nine months I was unable to attend to my professional duties as a nurse. I know that the average physician will not give any encouragement to any one suffering from rheumatic arthritis, and for that reason I decided to try Var-ne-sis. As it was highly recommended for this disease, at first I could see very little change, but by continuing the treatment I began to see an improvement, and gradually the pain

GRAND EXHIBITION

trouble and everybody was given plenty of time to inspect the goods exhibited at the various booths. The crowd kept coming in a steady stream all day and during the evening and the crush didn't stop until near 11 o'clock in the evening when the doors were closed.

Yellow Tickets Today

Today is yellow ticket day. The doors opened promptly at 9 o'clock and thousands of pupils of the parochial schools were shown through the exhibition aisles. The students, who were under the care of the sisters behaved admirably and they displayed a good deal of interest in the countless things pointed out to them.

Tonight will be "Industry Night" and holders of tickets are asked to plan to keep the attendance scattered throughout the evening. Plan to go either as soon as you get out of work, early in the evening or in the middle of the evening. Select one of these periods and you will aid materially the members of the board of trade in averting a crush, and long delays. If you go today this request and you will have plenty of time to witness everything to be seen at the exhibit and so will the other fellow.

Last Evening

Last evening was called "Fraternal night" and members of the different precincts of the city showed their efforts in promoting the big enterprise, by showing up in large numbers. Like all other visitors at the exposition they were amazed at the diversified lines of Lowell-made goods and they took plenty of time to inspect them. The Lowell Military band gave a delightful performance from 8 to 9 o'clock and the music certainly added to the enjoyment of the affair.

Commercial Executives Attend

The members of the New England association of Commercial Executives visited the exhibit during the afternoon and they were shown around by Secretary John H. Murphy of the Lowell board of trade. Previous to their visit to the exposition, they gathered at the Richardson hotel where they had dinner. After the feast they discussed association work and compared notes on their methods of conducting business in their respective cities.

Brief speeches were made by President Robert F. Marden of the Lowell board of trade and Supt. Robert J. Thomas of the water department. Mr. Marden spoke interestingly on the industrial exposition and the methods of conducting it and wound up by saying that it has been the most effective means of arousing public spirit in the city's products.

Supl. Thomas described the Lowell water service, speaking particularly in regard to the new filter bed. Mr. Thomas declared that the people of Lowell in his belief are now getting as good water as can be found anywhere in the country.

Automobile Trip

At the conclusion of the speechmaking the visitors were taken on a trip of inspection to the filter plant in automobiles provided by a number of local citizens. The visitors included the following commercial executives:

Daniel N. Casey and P. R. Duffy of Haverhill; L. P. Swain of Everett; E. N. Sheffield of Nashua; Edward G. Osgood of Nashua; Arthur W. Stetson and Albert L. Whitman of Quincy; S. Fred Smith of Salem; Charles A. Richmond of Dover; William L. Loring of Brockton; E. G. Sullivan of Salem; George E. Foss of Springfield. The president of the organization is Secretary Redfern of the Fitchburg board of trade, and he was present and presided at the session.

The door marshal last night was Irving D. Kimball, clerk of the directors of the board of trade. He was assisted by Percy J. Wilson, Robert Green, Harold Cheney, Sekur Severson and Daniel W. Shanahan.

Exposition Notes

The program rendered by the board of trade orchestra yesterday afternoon was much enjoyed.

It would be interesting to read some of the compositions to be played by the school children. They have taken a good deal of interest in the show and they should be able to write a good story about it.

If you're looking for something you've lost at the show go directly to the quarters of the board of trade, which is the clearing house for lost and found articles. The members of the organization will do everything in their power to assist you in finding a lost article or locating the owner of something you might have found.

Open All Day Saturday

In order to accommodate all those unable to attend the great industrial exhibition at the Kaslo, the managers have decided to keep open all day Saturday and a special program has been arranged for that day. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged and those attending will be permitted to stay as long as they please. There will be no tickets for the Saturday show, but all will pay in at the door. Music will be furnished during the afternoon and evening.

TOLL OF SLAIN DEER 216

RETURNS RECEIVED AT STATE HOUSE—TWO WOMEN OFFICIALLY NAMED AS SUCCESSFUL NIMRODS

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Reports of the killing of 216 deer during this week have been received by the fish and game commissioners up to the closing of the office for the day at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In addition, reports were received of three having been wounded.

According to the official returns, two women have succeeded this week in shooting deer. They are Mrs. Dudley Ward of Williamstown and Mrs. V. F. Knight of Athol.

Terry Sylvia of Ashland and Frederick Wheeler of Belmont have shot bucks weighing 300 pounds each. The heaviest doe was killed by Frank A. Holmes of Russell. It weighed 218 pounds. The smallest prize secured by a Massachusetts hunter was a 30-pound doe.

Returns by counties received thus far are as follows: Barnstable, 5; Berkshire, 22; Bristol, 12; Essex, 5; Franklin, 45; Hampden, 21; Hampshire, 27; Middlesex, 11; Norfolk, 2; Plymouth, 22; Worcester, 43.

DIVISION 1, A. O. U. E. is booming. It had an interesting meeting Tuesday night and will have a smoke talk and entertainment tonight. A live committee is in charge and a good time is expected. Rev. Francis J. Mullin, chaplain of the Catholic Federation will address the meeting. Henry Smith is chairman of the refreshment committee. Martin F. McCarthy will preside. Rev. Fr. Mullin's address is looked forward to with much interest.

TOLD OF INFANT'S DEATH

MOTHER OF DEFECTIVE BABY MADE NO COMMENT—TO EXONERATE DOCTOR

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Anna Bollinger, mother of the defective infant which was permitted to die yesterday, was told today of the death.

She made no comment save to repeat that denial of the simple operation which would have saved the baby's life was best for all concerned.

Dr. H. J. Halseiden, the surgeon who took the initiative in advising Mrs. Bollinger, in all probability, will not be prosecuted. Coroner Hoffman said that if Dr. Reinhardt, coroner's physician, reported that Dr. Halseiden acted according to the most enlightened dictates of conscience and science, a burial permit would be issued after the inquest and the incident closed. Dr. Reinhardt said he so reported to the coroner.

Dr. Halseiden who had been almost without sleep during the 48 hours preceding the infant's death was busy in the operating room in the German-American hospital today.

A jury of six of the best known physicians and surgeons of Chicago will be chosen to hear testimony at the inquest. Coroner Hoffman announced that he expected to open the jury at once and before night select a date for the inquest.

"I have decided to hold an inquest because, for all we know, a similar case may be brought to our attention tomorrow. We should do something to prevent a similar death," he said. "I am making no criticism of the physician in this case. Our only object is to do something in the interest of humanity. I chose a jury of physicians in the hope that they will make some scientific recommendation to prevent similar occurrences."

Dr. Halseiden expressed satisfaction when he said the inquest had been ordered, though he said the baby's death from natural causes rendered one held unnecessary. "Any true investigation will make it more clear to the public that I am right," he said.

RELEASED ON $1000

HUNTER HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY ON A CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

PALMER, Nov. 18.—William W. Caldwell of Fall River was held for the grand jury when arraigned in the local court today on a manslaughter charge in connection with the shooting of Joseph W. Mountain of West Warren in the woods yesterday. Caldwell, held in the hearing today that he fired through a thicket at what he thought was a raccoon. He was released in $1000 bail.

SURPRISE ATTACK FAILED

BERLIN, Nov. 18. (By wireless to Skyville, N. Y.)—British forces attempted a surprise attack yesterday on German positions along the road between Messines, in Belgium, six miles south of Ypres, and Arras, to the south of Messines. This attack, the war office announced today, failed.

In the Argonne the French made preparations to explode a mine. This action was anticipated by the Germans, who evacuated the trench menaced by the mines.

LATE WAR NEWS

the Vardar river as the result of a two day battle.

Capture by the French of the town of Kusturino and a defeat of the Bulgarians by the British on the Valandovo-Rabrovo front also are reported in the advices received in Paris.

Bulgaria Take Perlepe

The Bulgarians apparently are sweeping all before them in the region north of Monastir. A London message early today said confirmation had been received in Saloniki of the report that the Bulgarians had taken Perlepe, an important Monastir, which the Serbians were preparing to evacuate. It was said.

Progress for Italians

Progress for the Italians in their campaign against Gorizia is reported by Rome, a strong entrenchment on the height northwest of the city having been taken.

Austrian Air Raid

Belluno, an Italian city about 50 miles north of Venice, has been bombed by an Austrian aeroplane. A Belluno despatch says only one bomb out of five dropped, exploded and that aside from the slight wounding of three persons the explosion had no effect.

On the French Front

Artillery engagements and fighting with trench guns are reported by Paris from the front in France. No infantry attacks are mentioned.

CONTRADICTORY REPORTS OF VICTORIES AND DEFEATS

FROM THE BALKANS

LONDON, Nov. 18, 12.32 p.m.—News from the Balkans continues to be a patchwork of unconfirmed rumors and contradictory assertions, without official statements to establish clearly the present status of affairs. The Serbian armies, with insufficient ammunition and inferior numbers, have been attempting vainly to meet the wide turning movement of the Bulgarians threatening Perlepe and Monastir.

Some despatches from Athens report that Perlepe already is in Bulgarian hands. All admit the Serbian position there is untenable and that evacuation of the city is inevitable.

News that the Bulgarian advance southward is proceeding rapidly and has reached a point within a few hours of Monastir is said to have caused consternation in that city, whose population is fleeing to Greek territory.

Judging from the size of the Bulgarian forces rushing from Tetovo southward and from the initial success of their new turning movement, which has changed entirely the military situation in southern Serbia, Monastir is in distinct danger. Not only has the Bulgarian maneuver necessitated abandonment by the Serbians of their positions at Babuna Pass, but the Serbian forces which have been holding this entire region are now in peril of being surrounded and cut off by the Bulgarians advancing southward from Krushovo.

Little is known of the Serbian situation in the north, except that determined resistance is still being offered by the Serbians against both Germans and Bulgarians, who have made no fresh gains of consequence.

Allied Successes

Both England and France have greeted with great enthusiasm the joint war conference held in Paris. It is regarded as marking greater solidarity and more concerted action of the allied armies. Although no official information has been received concerning the subjects discussed at the conference it is assumed the principal matter under consideration is the Balkan situation.

SERBIA'S POSITION GROWING WORSE—POPULATION OF MONASTIR FLEEING

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Serbia's position is growing steadily worse, according to information obtained by the Reuters correspondent at Athens. The population of Monastir is fleeing to Florina, 10 miles south across the Greek border and Saloniki.

Perlepe is expected to fall as soon as Bulgarian forces arrive there from Tetovo. The danger of being surrounded by hordes coming from the west towards Perlepe upset the Serbian defense at Babuna Pass. Desperate fighting is expected around Perlepe and to the south of that point.

A Bulgarian force is advancing from Krushovo to cut off the Serbian line of retreat towards Kresna and the Albanian frontier. On the upper part of the Serbs are fighting desperately, contesting every inch of territory.

The Reuters correspondent declares that while his information is unofficial, the Serbian legation admits that it probably is correct.

FAIR FOOTBALL WEATHER

Forecast for Today and Tomorrow Gives But Little Change in Temperature—Snow in New York

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Fair and warmer weather for the great Harvard-Yale football game on Saturday was the outlook last evening according to the best information obtainable, although the local weather bureau was not willing to make a forecast so far ahead.

For today and tomorrow the official forecast is fair with but little change in temperature, northwest or north wind. The maximum temperature at Boston yesterday was 42 at 2 p. m. and the minimum was 31 in the early morning.

There were two or three slight snow flurries yesterday.

Several inches of snow in western New York was considered quite natural by the weather observer, who explained that that section is near the base of the Appalachian mountains, which are always early snow breeders.

PAWBUCKETVILLE SOCIAL CLUB

A delightful social and dance was conducted at Associate hall last evening by the members of the Pawtucketville Social club. Brudeck's orchestra furnished music and the several hundred guests spent a most enjoyable evening. Miss Laura Payette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Payette of 67 Ashmun avenue, was declared the winner of the ticket selling contest and she was awarded a gold watch. The committee in charge of the event was as follows: Joseph Payette, chairman; Albert Lemay, secretary-treasurer; Frank Drouin, Henry Gellinas, Olivia Polster and Rodrigue Descheneaux, ex-officio.

GIBBONS AND AHEARN

THE WORLD'S PREMIER MIDDLE-WEIGHTS TO MEET AT ST. PAUL NEXT MONTH

Mike Gibbons, the wizard of St. Paul, generally acclaimed as America's greatest middleweight, despite the championship claims of Al McCoy, has agreed to meet Young Ahearn in a ten round title fight in the city of St. Paul, Minn., on the night of either December 2 or 7.

Gibbons wired Daniel McKittrick, manager of Ahearn, yesterday afternoon that the fight was on. Ahearn had been on his way up for a year. The St. Paul club is going to bill the show as a mill for the world's middleweight championship, utterly disregarding the title claim of Al McCoy. McCoy is considered the middleweight champion of the world because of his supposedly false victory over George Chip.

Ahearn, however, is the recognized middleweight champion of Europe. He won the title by beating Adrian Hogan of France in Paris in the spring of 1914. He won the title under the rules of the French Federation of Professional Boxers, which was so unfortunate as to have a leg shot away several months ago while in the trenches in Flanders for France.

This match between Gibbons and Ahearn has been hanging fire for more than a year. The St. Paul wizard finally agreed to launch his reputation when his home town guaranteed him a purse that he could not refuse conscientiously. Gibbons has assured Ahearn a $20,000 gate.

So important is this middleweight encounter regarded by the good folk of St. Paul that an effort is now under way to induce the Minnesota state boxing commission to grant special dispensation for a referee's decision on this particular bout.

Ahearn was to have fought George Chip next Friday night at the Broadway Sporting Club of Brooklyn, but his sent in notification of cancellation because of some minor injury.

Steve Kennedy of Lawrence, will have his work cut out to win tonight from Dick Stash of Cleveland, whom he meets at Lawrence in the main go of 12 rounds. Steve will discover that Stash is a lot harder proposition than Goyer Hayes, the boxer, Kennedy won a few weeks ago, only to have the referee call it a draw. Stash is the national amateur champion, winning the title four years in succession and his record of wins is an impressive one. A hard fight is looked for by the sports.

Joe Chick will meet Kayo Sweeney at Lawrence. The Thanksgiving fight. These boys have battled several times and honors were pretty close at the finish, according to accounts.

Jimmy Duffy of Lockport, N. Y. and Ted Lewis are expected to meet at Boston next Tuesday night. Duffy, a New York lightweight, a sound wallop a few nights ago, which shows he is in prime condition for his match with Lewis. Duffy has been a newspaper decision over Champion Freddie Welsh, Johnny Dundee, Charley White, Jack Britton, Leach, Cross, and a host of other well known boxers, but in slugging with Lewis, he slacks up against the cleverest boxer in the world today and if he can hold Lewis even he will have done something no other American boxer has accomplished.

HARVARD-YALE GAME

JUNIOR PLAYERS ON WAY TO TYNG'S ISLAND FOR REBATTLE

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 18.—The hard campaign of preparation for the Yale game ended. The Harvard football team was prepared to receive the applause of the undergraduates in the stadium late today with the sober elation becoming to a successful army which has yet to meet the crucial battle. The students, less cautious in their expressions of confidence, rallied to give the players an enthusiastic send-off to their retreat on Tyng's Island, in the Merrimack river, where they will seek complete relaxation until Saturday.

In spite of the warning of Coach Houghton that the chances in the game should be regarded as even, many bets were placed at 10 to 5 on Harvard. The general expectation seemed to be that Yale would make a sharp, bruising attack, to be met by more scientific defense. The contest was especially keen in the prospective duel between Nathan and Guernsey, each of whom has shown ability to punt the ball more than 50 yards and to kick a field goal from behind the 40-yard line.

CITY LEAGUE GAMES

CARRIS BOWLED TEAM TOTAL OF 1620—KIMBALL SYSTEM AND CRESCENTS WON—OTHER SCORES

Last night was a banner night on the alleys and the various games rolled in the City League were very largely attended. After the smoke of the evening's battle had cleared away it was found that the Crescents and Carris had taken four points, Kimball System three, and the Bridge street and Jewell teams two apiece.

The members of Carris' aggregation gave one of the prettiest exhibitions of team rolling seen in this city in years, the members piling up a total of 1620 in the game. The Carris man on the team with a score of 341, while Hayden, who rolled the low score, managed to acquire his offerings through the white sticks for a total of 311.

The Crescents were next in line with their four points win over the White team. The Carris man on the team with a score of 341, while Hayden, who rolled the low score, managed to acquire his offerings through the white sticks for a total of 311.

The Bridge street and Jewell teams rolled neck and neck all evening and the Carris man on the team with a score of 341, while Hayden, who rolled the low score, managed to acquire his offerings through the white sticks for a total of 311.

noon the Lowell warriors made a grand showing. Coach Conway took charge of the Innamet and Tom Mahoney, a former coach of the school, looked after the backfield. Many new plays were tried out, and these will be used in the game Saturday.

This morning a mass meeting was held in the school assembly hall at 11:20 o'clock with practically the entire student body in attendance. Cheers and class songs were gone over and several addresses were made by members of the school faculty and others.

Faculty Manager William Dennett is in receipt of 1000 tickets for the annual Lowell-Lawrence football game to be played at Riverside park, Lawrence, on Thanksgiving morning. This year's battle with the down-river team will be a close one, and the Lowell team is very confident of winning. The Lawrence team has been strong all season, and has suffered but few defeats. Sets for the Thanksgiving game may be procured at the high school.

BASKETBALL GAME TONIGHT

The C.Y.M.L. basketball team will open its season tonight in the C.Y.M.L. gymnasium, meeting a team made up of former students of Holy Angels college, Buffalo, N. Y.

The C.Y.M.L. team, last year as the C.Y.M.L. seconds, T. J. Ford, the manager, would like to arrange games with fast teams.

FOR MAYOR OF NASHUA

FOUR CANDIDATES IN FIELD—W. T. GAGHAN NEW FIGURE, IN POLITICS

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 18.—Entries for the city election Dec. 7 closed last night with four candidates for mayor. James B. Crowley, the incumbent, Andrew J. Tuck, Henry A. Leach and William T. Gaghan.

The last name is a new figure in politics. For the three aldermen-at-large, Amos J. Wheeler and Frank E. Kittredge, incumbents, and with Arthur de Montigny, Edward H. Sheridan and George P. Boire.

The retiring members of the board of public works, Charles T. Lund and Joseph Rosseau, are running with James E. Douglas and Henry P. Leach. Eight candidates are entered for the three assessorships, three for the one fire commissionership, and six for the four vacancies on the board of education. For ward aldermen there are contests except in ward 4.

ROBS SEA OF ITS TERRORS

PROF. WEBSTER OF CLARK UNIVERSITY EXPLAINS HIS INSTRUMENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Prof. A. G. Webster of Clark university, Worcester, Mass., in an address yesterday at the final session of the National Academy of Sciences, told of an instrument he has perfected for finding the direction of a fog signal, and which, he expects, will rob sea travel of one of its greatest terrors.

For years Prof. Webster has experimented with every kind of sound wave, and yesterday he told of his work in regard to standardizing sounds for fog horns and the development of a receiving instrument capable of catching the signals.

The standard sound, which he hopes will be adopted for navigation, so far as fog signals are concerned, is formed by means of a tuning fork arranged so as to hum in a resonator by the passage of an electric current.

The receiving instrument consists of conical horns, placed in pairs with the small ends together, and these catch the hum from the signaling machine.

A glass connected with the receiving apparatus shows, by means of lights within, the direction from which come the signal sounds.

Heretofore, the speaker explained, mariners have not been able to tell within 45 degrees the direction from which fog signals come.

LOWELL HIGH-TEXTILE

DIG GAME WILL BE PLAYED AT SPALDING PARK SATURDAY—GREAT RIVALRY

Coach Dodge's Textile eleven will be the opposing force of the local high school warriors at Spalding park Saturday afternoon. Rivalry between the two teams is at concert pitch and the followers of both schools are confident of victory.

The Lowell team of course, as in the past, will have to rely on its speed to offset the speed and strength of the Moody street eleven. Low's high this year will find itself pitted against a team outwitting it considerably, but on the other hand Coach Dodge's boys will find themselves opposing a combination with plenty of speed and well drilled in open field plays.

Lowell's big task will be to check the line drive of the Textile backfield, and if Coach Conway's statement is to be taken for granted the high school athletes will accomplish this easily after the experience they received in the Haverhill game. Berry, a college athlete and Textile's star backfield man, is the heart of the Textile attack and will be the center of Lowell's defense.

During the past few days Coach Conway has been devoting considerable of his time bolstering up the right tackle of Lowell's line which was the big weakness of the Haverhill game. Coughlin, Lowell's star tackle who has been out of the game for weeks with an injury to his left leg will be in the game on Saturday and his presence is expected to prove a tower of strength to his team.

In the practice held yesterday afternoon the Lowell warriors made a grand showing. Coach Conway took charge of the Innamet and Tom Mahoney, a former coach of the school, looked after the backfield. Many new plays were tried out, and these will be used in the game Saturday.

THE BAY STATE FARES HEADED FOR NORTH SEA

THE COMPANY DID NOT DISPUTE JURISDICTION OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

It was erroneously stated in a Boston despatch published in this paper on Tuesday that the Bay State Street Railway company was responsible for a motion attacking the jurisdiction of the public service commission in relation to the Bay State company's petition to modify its fare and transfer schedules.

The Bay State Street Railway company had nothing to do with the filing of this motion. It was in fact made and argued upon by Mr. Edwin P. Dwyer, who has entered an appearance in opposition to the Bay State company's petition.

MEN WANTED

Coke Operators of Connellsville, Pa., Unable to Meet Demand—Plants Rushing

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 18.—Coke operators throughout the region are working their plants six days a week and firing additional ovens when labor can be secured. Production during the week for which reports were received today amount to 427,000 tons and shipments to 130,000. There are not enough men in the region to operate the ovens already fired and as numbers of these insist on extra holidays every week the labor situation is becoming acute.

GERMAN FLOTILLA OF 25 TORPEDO BOATS AND A BIG CRUISER SIGHTED

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Copenhagen, dated Wednesday, gives a report that a flotilla of 25 German torpedo boats and a big cruiser passed Helsingborg, on the southwest coast of Sweden, at 6 o'clock in the morning, proceeding at high speed northward.

Helsingborg is at the northern entrance to the sounds which separates Sweden and Denmark. Vessels passing Helsingborg and proceeding north would enter the Kattegat, which leads by way of the Skagerrak into the North sea.

THE SPELLBINDER

They were all at it last night, for while Messrs. Palmer and Murphy were in the Highlands, Messrs. O'Donnell and Thompson were at Broadway, while Dr. Mignault was busy at the clubs.

Former Mayor O'Donnell addressed large gatherings at Pawtucket square and at Broadway last evening. The former mayor expressed regret that Mayor Murphy had violated his promise of two years ago, that he would not be a candidate for a second term, and said that while he appreciated Mayor Murphy's desire for another term, he believed that a man holding such a responsible position should not lightly break the promise that he had made to his fellow-citizens. Then he called attention to another piece of deception connected with the second term promise; the fact that Mayor Murphy allowed or caused statements to be made to the effect that he had seven thousand names to his petition asking him to be a candidate for a second term, when the mayor himself had made all the arrangements for staging the petition and the subsequent meeting. As a matter of fact, Mr. O'Donnell said there were not over 400 names on that petition and not one of them were qualified voters of Lowell.

Then he recalled Mayor Murphy's promise that no contract labor would be considered in the work to be done on the filtration plant, which promise had been broken, and he named several other promises that had not been kept. Having these things in mind, he asked the public if they would not be justified in discounting every statement made by Mayor Murphy during this campaign, particularly when the mayor himself has said that a man will say anything in the heat of a political contest that might bring support.

Former Mayor O'Donnell called attention to the fact that under the administration of Mayor Murphy the tax rate has been $21.90 and $20.80, the highest and greatest in the history of the city, and that under Mayor Murphy the actual running expenses had increased over $20,000 a year, and that yet with the highest tax rate and increased running expenses but very little of a permanent and constructive nature has resulted, and pointing out the amount of construction work done during his own two years as mayor of Lowell with a tax rate of $19.10 and $19.80. He pointed out that when the school board demanded better accommodations in the Bae of a larger school in West Centralville the demand was met, and that when the school came into existence, he also pointed to the fine brick building that had been constructed in Broadway for the use of the health department, and which had been needed for years. He referred to the remodeling of the fire houses, the construction of the comfort station, the new building at the Chelmsford Street hospital, the duplication of a vital part of the water system, the new concrete bridges, the extension of Fairmount street and several other permanent improvements that had been made.

In his Pawtucketville speech the former mayor dwelt upon the bungling attempts of the mayor to construct a Pawtucket bridge. An engineer from out of town was brought here and told to go ahead before any plans or specifications had been drawn up or thought out, and he pointed out the failure of the government to provide proper and adequate school accommodations for the children despite the fact that their attention had been frequently called to this vital public need. There was not money enough for such things he said, though there was plenty to provide automobiles and to hire chauffeurs to operate them.

Thompson Starts Out

Perry O. Thompson, handicapped by a cold that interfered with his talking, yielded to the demands of his friends and took the stump last evening. At Broadway and Willie st. he talked to the crowd that also listened to former Mayor O'Donnell, while at Billerica and Lawrence sts. he had the best-housed boys all to himself.

Mr. Thompson made a good impression and he held himself aloof from severe criticism of his opponents and from personalities. He stated that under this charter a man has a right to run for mayor when he chooses and is under no obligation, either personal or political, to start a side for two years simply to allow somebody else to gratify his personal ambition. He stated that his candidacy does not represent any particular political party, race, section or interest. He said he was a candidate as a citizen and would represent all citizens equally. As an evidence of his non-political tendencies, he quoted the case of the introduction of merit system in the selection of evening school teachers, a reform introduced and successfully carried out by him while a member of the school board which has completely eliminated this important feature of the school system from politics. He stated that if elected mayor of Lowell he would put the merit system in force at city hall and he believed that by the elimination of politics in the matter of appointing the working forces of the city much better results will be obtained and general satisfaction will be given the public.

At Westford and Pine Streets

One of the striking evidences of the growth and development of the Highland district is the fact that while a few years ago a campaign speaker would no more think of going to the corner of Westford and Pine streets to address a gathering of voters, than he would take one of the celebrities for his forum, now it has become a regular one night stand for the candidates.

Last evening there were four speakers under the arc light at this junction, Jackson Palmer, Abel R. Campbell, Mayor Murphy and James F. Miskella, and for over an hour and a half a continuous flow of political talk was on tap. The occasion was graced by the presence of more ladies than have turned out at any of the other out-door meetings while several automobiles offered seats for the night, as it were, at the oratorical battle.

Jackson Palmer gave in sight property at 8 o'clock and made a favorable impression, though much of his matter has been given before at the other places where he has talked. Referring to Mayor Murphy's attack on the proprietor of The Sun, Mr. Palmer, after explaining that he holds no brief for him, and is on the opposite side of the fence politically, put it up to the mayor for allowing such a state of affairs to go on for two years, without removing the assessors. He stated that Mayor Murphy's attention had been previously called to the assessors, but that he had refused to take any action, and he alleged this with the claim that the mayor was interested in the office through certain prominent business men who are powers in national, state, county and local politics. They had dictated the appointment of the assessors and he had resigned secured for him a specially created position in the district attorney's office and then dictated the appointment of his successor in the post office. Now, he said, they have raised a big campaign fund for Mayor Murphy and demand his re-election.

Later in the evening Mayor Murphy attempted to "cover up" on the Harrington tax matter by saying: "I didn't know about Harrington's taxes until a few weeks ago when a gentleman suggested that I look up his taxes." Somewhat different from his claims earlier in the week.

Mr. Palmer referred to a statement made by Mayor Murphy earlier in the day that his honor had refused permission to a friend of Palmer's to run a tub game on the common on July 4, and for that reason made an enemy. Mr. Palmer said that while the mayor was on the subject of the common, he suggested the sale of the Franklin school, the use of the present Westford street fire house as a school, and the erection of a new fire house, and that he had been told that the mayor would not do so.

Mr. Palmer, before concluding his remarks, referred to the needs of the Highland district, especially its need for additional facilities for fighting fire and its need for improved streets. He suggested the sale of the Franklin school, the use of the present Westford street fire house as a school, and the erection of a new fire house, and that he had been told that the mayor would not do so.

criticized this government for the introduction of contract labor to Lowell and declared himself unalterably opposed to contract labor on public works. He advanced the argument that public service corporations along the city's streets should be taxed, thereby making them share the general burden of taxation.

Word Passed Round
The word has been passed around in the street and sewer departments: "Vote for Murphy and Moore." Naughty little bullet!

Addressed Car Shop Men
Jackson Palmer pulled off another original stunt this morning when he addressed the 15 carloads of car shop employees at the depot before they went to work at 6.15 o'clock. The surprised car shop men gave Jackson a big hand.

Yes, Verily Nota Bene
Under the significant headline, "Nota Bene," the Courier-Citizen yesterday had the following paragraphs:

"The question for mayoralty candidates isn't so much, 'How well can you talk?' but 'What have you done?'"

"Every candidate makes fair promises—and it's easy. The test as to probable fulfillment thereof can be found only by scrutinizing the records of performances and general conduct hitherto made."

Such statements coming from a newspaper that has done its best to help along the cause of Mayor Murphy in the past are significant and indicate that the Courier-Citizen throws up its hands as the result of that broken one term promise and the colossal list of failures piled up by the Murphy administration.

Mayor Murphy's Big Claim
Mayor Murphy's biggest and proudest claim in this campaign is that the police records show a less number of arrests for drunkenness than in the two years of the prior administration which undoubtedly is a great truth. Life is too short to attempt to figure out just what relation the number of arrests for drunkenness has to the highest tax rate in the history of the city, and hence it will not be attempted. But speaking of arrests for drunkenness, the fact that there were a smaller number arrested for drunkenness doesn't prove that there was less drunkenness in Lowell, by any means. Making arrests for drunkenness is optional with the police officers. If they are told to gather up all the drunks, the arrests are many, but if they are told to go light, then we may read of Judge Enright being presented a pair of white gloves, as the result of no arrests at all. But then, it may be that there really has been less drunkenness in Lowell of late, and if such is the fact it is probably due to the exercise of greater care and discretion on the part of the liquor dealers as the result of the frequent visits of Mayor Murphy's secretary, Mr. Cull, to the saloon-keepers of the city. The latter has been visiting the liquor dealers and very probably his mission has been to threaten them on the conduct of their business. Surely none would accuse him of visiting the liquor men to intimidate them or even to solicit their political support for the mayor, while we can personally vouch for his own sobriety and good habits.

Locks and Canals Exhibit
A correspondent suggests that the Locks & Canals company should have an exhibit at the coming Lowell & Canals exhibit at the Locks & Canals company, containing the photographs of over 1000 children who have been drowned in the unprotected waterways of the city since the establishment of the Locks & Canals. And he further suggests that as it might be impossible to get pictures of all who were drowned in the past the company might confine its exhibit to the 31 who have been drowned since the present administration has been in office. The company is not directly responsible for all the drownings in its various waterways, but it is responsible for all drownings due to badly fenced canals.

Morse Visits Highlands
The residents of upper Stevens street sang: "Welcome, Stranger" upon seeing Commissioner Morse personally supervising the operations of a steamroller on that street yesterday morning. Some of the residents of that section have been heard to complain that the visits of the street department to the upper Highlands during the past year have been like those of angels and hence their delight at seeing the commissioner himself on deck.

Donnelly Some Talker
If anybody entertains the idea that James E. Donnelly can't make a speech he should ring off, for Jimmie has started to make speeches in this campaign, and those who have heard them state that they have the punch. In some of his speeches Mr. Donnelly made the claim that he was not defeated through lack of votes, last year, but through the skillful manipulation of a counter in one of the precincts. Mr. Donnelly asks votes on the ground that he has had practical experience in several of the municipal departments.

Denying Rumors
Now the denying of rumors by the different candidates has begun, which, of course means that someone has previously started the rumors in circulation.

Last year Frank Ricard was defeated for the nomination by about 200 and he claimed that his defeat was brought about by an untrue rumor started at the 11th hour to the effect that he was running in combination with another candidate. This year, Mr. Ricard states, someone has started a similar rumor and he wants it understood that he is not and will not be in any combine with any candidate, scheme or interest. He says, if elected, he will represent the entire

TO THE VOTERS OF LOWELL

SIRS: If I am elected mayor I will make an honest effort to do my duty unhampered by any alliances, agreements or pledges except those made openly to the public.

I will hold the heads of my departments responsible for the duty imposed upon them and the laws will be enforced impartially with the aim of extending equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

I Will Not Be a Candidate For a Second Term

Because I realize one object of the present charter was to do away with the re-election of mayors and because I believe if unhampered with plans and labor necessary to bring about a continuation of two additional years in office I can perform my official duties to better advantage, and because I purpose not only to go into office free of any ties and personal obligations but I desire to remain so during my entire term. Under such conditions there should be no reason why, if elected, I cannot leave office with as much respect as I enter it, and this is my greatest ambition.

Hoping that you will see your way clear to vote for me Tuesday, Dec. 9th, I am

ely rather than any clique or interest.

Someone has started a rumor to the effect that Abel R. Campbell is in a combine to throw out the democratic office-holders at city hall and this he vigorously denies.

Wasting Much Energy
It would appear that Mayor Murphy is wasting a lot of energy in this campaign, making several speeches when already he has the nomination won by several thousand votes. His Honor states that 7000 voters have asked him to be a candidate again, and that they were so desirous of having him for mayor that they demanded that he break his word of honor, something held sacred by most men. In the city of Lowell there are 15,932 male voters. With 7000 voters pledged to Mayor Murphy, there are 8932 to split between O'Donnell, Mignault, Thompson and Palmer, and regardless of how they vote they can't elect a mayor. Hence it is impossible for Mayor Murphy not to be nominated, if he has 7000 votes. Then, if it is impossible for him not to be nominated why is he making such desperate appeals to the voters, and why is he persistently using personal abuse, the sure sign of a defeated candidate?

Palmer on Milk
Jackson Palmer, following his promise of last week, has claimed throughout this campaign that he would not be elected if he had 7000 votes each, and last few days that the present head of the department of public safety has disregarded the provisions of chapter 144 of the acts of 1914. This act provides that the city shall appropriate money to provide for the safeguarding of the conditions at the dairies so that the source of the milk supply of the city may be sanitary. All dairies are to be required to receive a certificate that they have been so inspected and that the conditions under which the milk is produced are free from filth and danger of disease germs. If any producer of milk ships milk into Lowell without such a certificate and without inspection the producer is liable to a penalty for violation of the criminal law.

Mr. Palmer asserts that there is no dairy which has been forced to comply with the statute, although there are several hundred which produce milk for importation into Lowell. He further asserts that he has inspected several dairies himself, and that in several places the horns at the door of the mayor, the administrative head of the milk department, because of the fact that Melvin Master has not been given the appropriation with which to comply with the law, after asking it from the government. He states that Mr. Master has complied with the law which protects the people against watered milk, but that the money which should have been used to protect the babies from diseased milk was used in order to provide easy and luxurious transportation of Chief Welch in the big Buick.
